Army And Navy Merger Plan To Reach Congress

President To Send Message
Giving Plan Agreed Upon

TRUMAN REPORTS COMPROMISE MADE

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—President Truman today placed the fate of America's armed defense in a future "atomic" war in the hands of a Republican-dominated congress.

Congress promised speedy consideration of a plan agreed to by both the Army and Navy to unify the armed forces into a single department of national defense.

Republican leaders asked for "time to study" the new presidential proposal. Democrats greeted the defense blueprint as the answer to a long-vexing problem.

The chief executive will send to congress without delay a special message embracing the new plan for bringing the armed forces together under a single secretary of national defense.

Mr. Truman announced last night that an "admirable compromise" had been reached and agreed to by the Army and Navy to the controversial question of streamlining the nation's defense forces and centralizing their command, planning and procurement.

The plan is expected to save the nation billions of dollars in the future cost of defense.

Congress will have to enact legislation to establish the position of (Continued on Page Two)

PA NEW OBSERVES

Pa. News noticed several small boys playing alongside the mayor's recreation committee ice skating pond last night. Although the pond is not very deep, playing near it could be disastrous for children.

Pa. News saw an expression of art today that was unique. A jalopy owner drove up Mercer street in his vehicles that had scenic views painted on the back and sides. The scenes were in natural color.

Bus passengers found the last stop on the West Side run very dark when they got off the bus last night. The street light at the end of West Washington street was out Pa. News noted.

Railway Express office was filled with the chattering of 600 day-old chicks this morning as six boxes of the tiny fowls arrived here by air from New Hampshire. They will be forwarded to New Wilmington, and in the meantime have been placed near a heater to keep them from dying of exposure.

Fire at the lumber yard in the South Beaver street area on Thursday afternoon created considerable traffic congestion in the district, as from the fire attracted spectators from far and near. Many motorists drove into the narrow streets in the vicinity of the fire, causing congestion.

Many folks would not like to return to the inconveniences of the "Gay Nineties," but they would like to buy meals such as were served at Battle's restaurant in the old Shenango hotel, 32 West Washington street, at the prices which then prevailed. A local resident brought in a small advertising card from this golden period, which advertised ham sandwiches for three cents, pie, quarter cut, three cents; soup with crackers, five cents; and 21 regular 25-cent meals, which included soup and pie, for four dollars. They also had a regular meal for 15 cents.

BUSINESS SHOWS DECIDED INCREASE

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Business activities in the Pittsburgh area today was within a few points of the peak of the postwar period, the University of Pittsburgh's bureau of research reported today.

The bureau's index showed that activities for the week ending January 11, were 196.5 per cent of the 1935-39 average.

A strong increase in coal output was noted as was shipments of iron and steel increased.

Merger Plan To Reduce Cabinet Of President

(BULLETIN)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—(INS)—President Truman's plan for merger of the armed forces will reduce the present cabinet from ten to nine members by combining the war and navy departments into a secretaryship for national defense.

The cabinet offices of secretary of war and navy will be abolished. If Congress approves the merger plan.

This was disclosed today by the White House in a full dress conference participated in by the president and the cabinet members.

The conference was called to clarify the compromise merger plan announced last night.

It also developed that the heretofore "unification" of the army and navy is in reality a reorganization plan which unifies and coordinates armed services command at the top level.

Under this plan the army and navy are to be maintained as separate and autonomous units together with a new and independent air force.

London Strikers Are Beginning Return To Jobs

LONDON, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Fifty thousand London workers essential to the distribution of food began moving back to their jobs today as the 12-day walkout ended.

Dockers, food handlers and other workers who quit work in sympathy with striking truckmen when the government sent troops to take their place were ready to return to work and restore labor peace in London.

All market porters who were the first to strike in sympathy with the truckmen were back on the job today. The dockmen have agreed to return Saturday.

The British cabinet prepared to insure the distribution of food until the striking truckmen return to work Saturday.

The full distribution of supplies is not expected to return to normal until next Wednesday. There is almost no hope for a full week's meal ration in London this weekend.

State Farm Show Attendance Near Half-Million Mark

HARRISBURG, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Attendance at the 31st annual state farm show approached the 500,000 person mark today and the five day exposition was labeled the most successful in the state's history.

Colorful exhibits of farm produce became soiled and disheveled by the constant crush of approximately 100,000 visitors a day and prize animals appeared to droop from excitement, but the enthusiasm which underscored the 1947 show remained at a peak.

Judging of 10,000 displays, including top breed livestock, was a running feature of the indoor fair. Eight thousand cash prizes approximately $35,000 have been distributed.

The last of the 26 state-wide farm organizations participating in the affair prepared to adjourn annual conventions.

Planes Combing North Atlantic For Missing Ship

SALEM, Mass., Jan. 17.—(INS)—One of the biggest air hunts ever launched into the North Atlantic area got underway today.

Eight service planes sped eastward to sweep 50,000 square miles of ocean in a renewed search for the missing Boston Trawler Belle and her crew of 17.

The area to be searched extended between Cape Ann and Newfoundland. The Belle has been missing since a week ago when she sent out distress signals 100 miles east of the Massachusetts coast. The hunt had to be abandoned the last three days because of storms and fog.

Mutilation Slaying Victim Is Identified

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Identification of the Los Angeles mutilation slaying victim as Elizabeth Short, 22, of Medford, Mass., today gave police fresh clues as to her slayer.

Investigators began a close check of the girl's acquaintances in Santa Barbara and Hollywood where she lived and at Camp Cook, where she was employed as a civilian clerk.

With the identification, search was launched for a "jealous marine" about whom a girl identified as Miss Short had voiced fear to a Los Angeles policeman.

Policeman Myrl McBride said she questioned the girl in a main street bar the night prior to the murder. Although not detained, the girl confided to the policeman she lived in fear of a boy friend who "threatened my life if I went out with anyone else."

The identification was made by the Los Angeles examiner, in cooperation with Los Angeles police and International News Sound Photos.

International News Sound Photos transmitted the prints to the examiner's Washington bureau for a check of FBI files.

FBI records disclosed Miss Short once was employed as a civilian (Continued on Page Two)

Last Mid-Year Class Day Program Given At High School Today

Throwing their class day party in "Shanty Town," the last mid-year graduating class of New Castle senior high school created a picturesque shanty scene, with a dimly lit and a lively joint called "Jack's Snak Shack" on the stage of the high school this morning.

Groups of students in jeans and checked shirts, neck scarves and knee-length watch chains dropped into the Shant to hear the smooth and talented band, directed by Jim Glitch, and to watch the floor show, "emceed" by Dave Preston and his stooge Jack McCullough.

First Act

In the first act, a quartet sang "Shanty Town," and Marion Wheldon sang "The Old Lamp-lighter." Eleanor Thomas gave a twirling performance, which was followed by the class history, related by Marjorie Scullio, and the class prophecy by Mark Foley.

Tap dances by Elaine Ray, Eleanor Druschel and Shirley Cornea, and a number called "Rhythm in Black and White" completed the act. In the "Rhythm" number were Arlene Blank, Alice Mitsos, Jean Kelly, Patricia Ann Clark, Ruth Edelstein, Marilyn Calvin, Katherine Ralby and Ann Cooper.

Second Half

Opening the second act, awards were presented to Jean Hill for the class song and to Robert Delancy for the class poem. The rest of the program was as follows: "Sweet" (Continued on Page Two)

Locate Former Byrd Camp Site

Little America Camp Site Of Previous Byrd Expedition Is Re-Discovered

By LEE VAN ATTA
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ABOARD THE U. S. S. MOUNT OLYMPUS, IN ANTARCTICA, Jan. 17.—The five-year-old Little America camp site of the previous historic Byrd expedition to the south pole was re-discovered today.

All but obliterated by shifting mountains of ice, the world-famous landmark was spotted from the air by Rear Admiral Richard H. Cruzen of the Central command force.

Cruzen recognized traces of the site when he flew over Little America in a helicopter, seeking suitable new camp and airstrip sites. His Antarctic exploration command was anchored at the entrance to the Bay of Whales.

Surrounded by hulking barriers of ice, the four vessels stopped their engines in the strangely dirty waters about three miles from the arm-like entrance to the bay which appears to be frozen solid.

Capt. Charles Thomas, of the Ice-breaker Northwind, went up in a helicopter early this morning when the vessels reached Discovery Inlet. Following his reconnaissance, the vessels steamed on to the Bay of Whales area.

As soon as the ships have to, Admiral Cruzen, operations commander of the expedition, went aloft. He will designate the sites where the expedition will settle for two months of scientific studies and the landing strips for the planes from the Carrier Philippine Sea.

Two Miners Die As Rock Gives Way

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Jan. 17.—(INS)—Two mine workers lost their lives today when they were caught beneath a rock fall in the Buttonwood mine of the Glen Alden Coal Co.

The victims were identified as John Babayak, 41, of Wilkes-Barre, and Frank Bryelski, 46, of Hanover township.

Rescuers worked for six hours before pulling the bodies from the debris. Both men were employed as laborers.

Push Demands For 'Relief' From Portal-Portal Pay

U. S. Chamber Of Commerce Joins Manufacturers In Appeals For Action

By WILLIAM THEIS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The U. S. chamber of commerce asked congress today for "prompt relief" from portal-to-portal pay suits which it said threaten confiscation of many American businesses.

Thomas W. Howard, manager of the Chamber's Manufacturing Department, told a senate judiciary subcommittee that congress may well consider "liabilities" springing from legal decisions other than that in the portal case.

Joins Manufacturers

In this, Howard joined the National Association of Manufacturers which warned that other interpretations of the wage-hour law may be more costly to industry than the billions in portal claims.

Howard, listed ahead of AFL and CIO witnesses, explained that the chamber is now polling its one million businessmen-members on a policy declaration calling for specific changes in the fair labor standards act. He said that declaration carries these major recommendations:

1. Elimination from fair labor standards act coverage operations that are not actually in interstate commerce. Howard said the administration of the law has gone "far afield."

Would Define Term

2. A definition of "compensable working time" which would recognize prevailing custom, practice or actual agreement. This would settle whether time spent walking to (Continued on Page Two)

Six Are Killed In Rail Wreck

Twenty-Five To Thirty Are Reported Injured In California Accident

BULLETIN
BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Jan. 17.—(INS)—Six persons were killed and between 25 and 30 reported injured today when the Southern Pacific Owl hit a broken rail 15 miles north of Bakersfield early today, derailling 12 passenger cars.

Names of the dead and injured were not immediately made known. Sheriff's Sgt. L. M. Pryor said all of the between 25 and 30 reported injured were brought to the Kern General hospital and that additional injured might be en route to other hospitals in the Bakersfield area.

A sleeper and four coaches overturned and seven other passenger cars left the rails but remained upright.

Six ambulances were dispatched to the wreck scene from Bakersfield.

The train was due in Los Angeles at 8:25 a. m. today from Oakland, Cal.

Five Mercer County Residents Injured

MERCER, Jan. 17.—Five Mercer county residents employed at Meadville were injured in a truck-auto collision two miles north of Sheakylville early Thursday as they were en route to work.

The five were taken to Meadville City hospital where they are confined. The injured are Owen B. Clavages, Miss Olga Beatty, Miss Kathleen V. Chaney, Larry Chaney and Milton E. Powell.

The truck, operated by Merle L. Rough, of R. D. 5, Cochranville pulled through a traffic sign. He will be charged with failing to stop at the sign by state police.

Vandals Damage Store Windows At Sharon

SHARON, Jan. 17.—Display windows on approximately 25 downtown stores were scratched considerably by boys using a sharp instrument sometime Wednesday evening, it was discovered by police in an investigation Thursday.

The Merchants' division of the Chamber of Commerce offered a $50 reward for the apprehension of the vandals.

WHAT NEXT WATSON
MEADVILLE, Pa., Jan. 17.—(INS)—There's no doubt about the housing shortage being really critical in Meadville, if the following advertisement in a Meadville newspaper is a criterion:

"Wanted: a reliable person to adopt and 18-month-old son, so we can rent an apartment."

The Two 'Governors' Of Georgia

ELLIS ARNALL HERMAN TALMADGE

The question of Georgia's gubernatorial succession has developed into a complex legal issue in Atlanta, Georgia, as defiant Gov. Ellis Arnall refuses to concede the office right to Herman Talmadge, whom the Legislature elected in a post-midnight session. The death of Talmadge's father, Eugene, the governor-elect, precipitated the tangle.

Arnall Is Forced Out Of Georgia Capitol By Talmadge Move

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 17.—(INS)—Ellis Arnall today announced he was moving his "governor's office" temporarily to a downtown office building.

Arnall's move came as forces of Herman Talmadge, elected governor by the general assembly early Wednesday, took over the desk under the Capitol dome that Arnall used yesterday when he was barred from the suite of offices heretofore used by the chief executive.

When Arnall arrived at the Capitol at 10:15 this morning, he found that James Dykes, representative from Bleckley county, had "occupied" his office.

Dykes told Arnall when the incumbent governor walked up to the desk:

"I've just taken over your office. I have as much right to it as you do."

Arnall replied:

"I, as governor of the State of Georgia, am moving my offices for the time being to the Candler building. I am certain that the court will uphold my position."

Arnall then turned from the desk and went to the office of Secretary of State to have papers certified that he was still acting governor of Georgia.

He told newsmen:

"Gentlemen of the press. This is merely a certification of the fact that I am acting in my capacity as governor of Georgia. This certification will be placed on the desk of secretary of state for action by him as he sees fit."

When Arnall walked up to the desk where Dykes was sitting, he said: "Good morning, Jim."

Dykes replied:

"Hey, Ellis, would you like to make an appointment with the governor?"

Arnall said: "I am the governor."

Dykes then asserted:

"Ellis, you remind me of a hog. You know these old hogs after eating at the trough long enough just won't get their head out of it and stop eating."

When Arnall again asserted he was the governor, Dykes said:

"I refuse to yield. I have as much right to the office as you."

Cleveland Payroll Bandits Get $7,000

CLEVELAND, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Two armed bandits held up the payroll office of the Albert M. Higley Construction company in Cleveland today and escaped with $7,000 in cash.

The holdup men escaped in an automobile driven by an accomplice.

The bandits entered the temporary payroll office set up by the company on the construction of an addition to the Sears & Roebuck company store on Cleveland's west side.

One of the bandits covered the paymaster, Nathan Hays, with a shotgun and the other threatened him with a revolver.

Hays handed over the payroll at their demand and the men ran to their car and drove away from the scene.

Lumber Sheds At Kline Lumber Co. Burn To Ground

Fanned By Heavy Wind, Old Lumber Sheds Make Spectacular Blaze Late Thursday Afternoon

OFFICIALS ARE ESTIMATING LOSS

Fire, which destroyed the huge old lumber sheds at the J. Henry Kline Lumber Company, corner of Race and South Shenango streets, late Thursday afternoon, provided one of the most spectacular fires seen here in a number of years.

No Loss Estimate Yet

Officials of the company were endeavoring to place some value on the loss today, but are awaiting the arrival of J. Henry Kline, the owner, who resides in Winterhaven, Fla., before placing any definite figures on the loss. It is fully covered by insurance, officials of the company here stated today.

The lumber sheds were located some distance away from the planing mill and office of the company at 298 S. Beaver street, and also away from adjoining houses. The direction of the wind also carried the blaze away from surrounding homes scattered about in the district, located in the area adjacent to where the old canal passed through, many years ago, and near the junction of the Shenango creek with the Shenango river.

Cause Undetermined

Just how the fire started, has not been determined. Fire Chief James E. Thomas stated today, but it is believed to have originated from a bonfire, built by boys or loafers who hang out near the spot, near the end of the railroad bridge over the Shenango river, just beyond Race

New President Of France Will Form Cabinet

PARIS, Jan. 17.—(INS)—France's political factions today began maneuvering for posts in the coalition government which is to take the place of the all-Socialist Blum cabinet.

Blum and his fellow interim cabinet members submitted their resignations yesterday following the election of Socialist Vincent Auriol as first president of the fourth French republic.

Eight minutes after Auriol took up residence at the presidential mansion on the Champs Elysee this morning, Communist party leaders Maurice Thorez and Jacques Duclos presented themselves for an audience.

Auriol, empowered to consult concerning the formation of the new government and selection of the new French premier, conferred with the Communist leaders for 35 minutes. Neither of the latter would comment upon their departure.

They were followed shortly after by Andre Colin and Robert Lecourt, representatives of the Popular Republican movement, strongest rival of the Communist party in the last French elections.

The Communists were seen as in a favorable position in the formation of the new government since they threw their strong support to Auriol in the presidential balloting and are the strongest party in the French legislature.

If the sun continues shining and the temperature keeps high, and the streets are free from slush and snow and meadow lands are dry, I'll start to think of picnic days with baskets filled with lunches, with sand and ants and wooly worms surrounding it in bunches. I'll start to think of lemon pie mixed up with home fried spuds and ketchup in the mayonnaise and dripping on my duds. Oh, picnic days are far away and ere we get some more there'll be some winter, I would think—the weather's thirty-four.

Church Census Will Be Taken

New Castle Churches To Receive Questionnaires From U. S. Census Bureau

By ARTHUR C. WIMER (Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 17.—All New Castle churches will shortly receive from the United States Census bureau questionnaires seeking information for the fifth decennial census of religious bodies.

The questionnaires will cover church activities in 1946, and will provide the only official government figures with respect to membership in the various religious denominations or organizations.

The census will show the number of members by sex and the number 13 years old and over. Data will be collected on the number and value of church edifices as well as information on debt on such buildings. Facts on church expenditures will be obtained, including amounts spent for salaries, running expenses, repairs, home and foreign missions, and related expenses.

The last census of religious bodies, covering 1936, revealed 256 separate denominations which reported a total of 199,302 local churches in operation. Church membership in 1936 totaled 55,807,366. Value of church edifices amounted to $3,411,875,467 while expenditures totaled $518,953,871.

The 1946 figures are expected to show substantial increases in membership and church operations.

REPORT SPRAY OUTFIT STOLEN

City police today were told by Ernest Montgomery, 890 McClelland avenue, that a spray outfit had been stolen from his truck which was parked at the rear of the Derbyshire Richfield gasoline station some time Thursday night.

TWO MORE STREETS FOR SLEDDING HERE

Council has set two more streets aside for sledding. They are Emerson avenue between Laurel avenue and Park avenue and Temple avenue between East Washington street and Stanton avenue, according to city council records.

street. It is possible that sparks from the fire, blew into the dry old material of the sheds.

When first discovered, the fire just looked like a bonfire. David W. Edmiston, plant superintendent stated. In just seconds, the wind had whipped it through the big sheds. A general alarm was sounded by Assistant Fire Chief George W. Harper, and all available fire apparatus was rushed to the scene.

However, firemen were handicapped because they had to lay almost every inch of hose they had to reach plugs, the location being in an isolated spot, and the pressure on the lines was low until the pumps could be put in operation. Within 25 minutes, the fire had raced through the big wooden shell, and the roof was on the ground.

New Lumber Lost

There was approximately $5,000 worth of new lumber, which had just been recently received, stored in the structure, and part of it had a rough flooring to keep the material off the ground it was stated. The lumber in the building, however, was old material, and very dry, burning quickly in the brisk wind.

Dense clouds of smoke arose from the blaze, coming from the tar paper roof, and spectators gazed at the raging inferno with awe.

Within an hour, most of the blaze had burned itself out, or had been extinguished by firemen, but several companies remained at the scene longer. Firemen were recalled later in the evening, when smoldering embers which had not been completely extinguished underneath some of the piles, broke into flame again.

It was the second time in two days that firemen off duty were called into action by a general alarm, and a number of volunteers also responded to assist them in fighting the blaze.

The examiner reported the identification had been confirmed by the girl's mother, Mrs. Phoebe May Short of Medford, Mass., in a telephone conversation with the newspaper.

To Claim Body

MEDFORD, Mass., Jan. 17.—A grief-stricken mother planned today a flight to California to claim the body of her movie-struck 22-year-old daughter and help track down the fiend who butchered her.

Mrs. Phoebe M. Short, 46, is convinced that the mutilated body found in a vacant lot in Los Angeles is that of her daughter, Elizabeth, the Medford school girl who ran off to seek fame in the movies.

This is the second time tragic mystery has entered the life of the Short family.

Elizabeth's father, Cleo A. Short, vanished from the family home in 1930. His automobile was found parked in a Charlestown parking space. He had $500 when he left home. His wife at first fearing foul play asked police to search for him. He was never found.

Short was 45 years old and was in the business of installing miniature golf courses, which were riding the crest of a fad wave.

Mrs. Short, weeping hysterically, said: "I must fly to Los Angeles. I'll do everything possible to see that the fiend who killed my little girl is caught. He can't be human."

The traditional ceremony of the presentation of the school axe to the senior B president, William Nickum, by the senior A president, James Gilitch, and the singing of the school and class songs brought the January, 1947, class day program to a close.

Country Club Lunch

Immediately after the performance, the seniors left by bus and in gaily decorated cars for the New Castle Country club for lunch and an afternoon of games and dancing.

The luncheon was prepared by the senior home economics girls, under the chairmanship of Antonette Damiano.

Class colors this year are green and white, and were everywhere in evidence today. General chairman of this unusual class day was Dolores DeLillo. An art committee consisting of June Chaffee, Russell Stoner, Eleanor Leckfor, Grace Geminiani and Jack McCullough made the decorations, including a fire hydrant which leaned over the footlights at a crazy angle. The stage committee was: Dave Buttopietro, Jack O'Laughlin, James Goff, George Reid, Katherine Reidy, Wil-da Merriman and Ray Stoll, and the talent committee was made up of Nancy Klee, Bobette Moore, Elsie Mae Jolly, Ann Cooper, Arlene Blank, Eddie Burr, Russell Lewis, Lila Durgan and Alice Mitsos.

Mrs. Margaret Shaw Cassidy is the class supervisor.

Baccalaureate will be in the Cathedral auditorium Sunday evening at 8 o'clock and the commencement exercises on Tuesday evening. Instead of entertaining honor students at luncheon, as is the custom, Rotary club this year is inviting them to hear the lecture by Fulton Lewis, Jr., in the Cathedral auditorium Thursday evening.

Police alarm at the First National Bank of Lawrence County was accidentally touched off about noon today which resulted in a detectives cruiser rushing to the scene from police station.

the new secretary of national defense and to create a separate department of air.

The proposal, all details of which will be clarified at a news conference today, gives the Army Air Force equal standing with the Army and Navy. This development was pointed up sharply by the experience of the Second World War.

Possible Changes Forecast

Possible changes in the present Army and Navy secretariats were forecast.

Assistant Secretary of War for Air Stuart Symington is expected to be named secretary for air if congress approves the unification plan.

Both Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson and Secretary of Navy James Forrestal may remain on in their present posts, although Forrestal has expressed a desire to retire from his job on several occasions since the end of the war.

Should Forrestal resign, the president may be able to persuade him to take a top diplomatic post.

The number one question remaining in the proposed realignment is who would fill the new top job of secretary of national defense.

The post calls for a civilian, but this would not preclude the president appointing a professional military man who has retired to private life.

Broad Compromise

The new plan for unification is a broad compromise over original proposals.

It gives the Army, Navy and new Air Force equal status. Each department would be headed by a secretary under the overall direction of the Secretary of National Defense.

Each department would be headed by its own top commander.

The Navy retains its own air arm and Marine Corps, one of the most controversial points of previous proposals that would have largely hamstringed these two services.

The plan creates, additionally:

Plan Creates

1. A council of national defense.
2. A national security resources board.
3. A central intelligence agency (already functioning).
4. A war council composed of the secretary of national defense as chairman, the secretaries of the three defense departments, and their military commanders.
5. A joint chiefs of staff composed of the military heads of the three services, plus the president's chief of staff.
6. A full time joint staff of 100 officers serving under a director to carry out the policies of the joint chiefs of staff.

President Truman said in a letter to Forrestal and Patterson that the plan will "contribute greatly to the efficiency of our national defense."

Patterson and Forrestal in a joint letter to the president, said they were "pleased to report success" in developing the plan.

The secretaries emphasized that "the necessity for agreement between the military services is now even greater" than when they submitted their partial agreement seven months ago.

or preparing for the day's work was to be paid for at regular or overtime rates.

3. Discretion for the courts to decide whether an employer has acted in "good faith" and is entitled to having any damages mitigated.

4. Legalize compromise settlements in bona fide disputes under the act. The supreme court has held that overtime wage and double-damage claims cannot legally be compromised by employer and worker.

Howard, like other business and industry leaders who have testified, also recommended a statute of limitations covering claims arising under the labor standards act.

The C. of C. spokesmen called the supreme court's interpretation in the Mt. Clemens portal pay decision an "absurd idea" because neither management nor labor originally contemplated pay for such time as that spent changing clothes for work.

FORMER LOCAL FOLKS MEET IN CALIFORNIA

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. McClelland, 1730 Washington street, Redlands, Cal., formerly of this city, there was a get together of a number of former New Castle folks recently. The occasion was in honor of the birthday anniversaries of two of the guests, Mrs. Roy Long, formerly of R. D. 2, this city, and H. Duane McClelland, also formerly of R. D. 2.

The evening was spent reminiscing and talking of items in The New Castle News which they receive regularly there, although five days old it is still news.

A large birthday cake centered the table with candles at either end. After the group sang "Happy Birthday" the honored guests cut the cake. Mrs. Roy Long, assisted by Mrs. Edwin McClelland and Mrs. D. C. McClelland, served a delicious lunch.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dillon, of Mentone. Mr. Dillon is manager of Universal Sanitary Pottery and formerly resided on Laurel boulevard; Mrs. Dillon was formerly a teacher in East Brook school; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin McClelland, of Mentone, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Long and sons, Willis and Warren, formerly of this city; and Mr. and Mrs. D. C. McClelland and son, Duane.

BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR LOCAL EMPLOYEE

On Tuesday evening, January 14, the employees and families of The Baltimore Life Insurance company held a surprise birthday party for Miss Antoinette Elisco, secretary of the New Castle office.

The event was held at a tearoom on the New Wilmington road. Dinner was served by candlelight at a beautifully appointed table, centered with a large birthday cake. Miss Elisco was the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

The main diversion of the evening was dancing, followed by the showing of motion pictures.

Arrangements for the party were made by Mrs. Lillian Depiano and T. J. Calazza of the local office.

FRANKLIN FACULTY HAS ANNUAL DINNER

According to a tradition which started when the school was first built, the faculty of Ben Franklin Junior High school, with husbands and wives as guests, met in the school's model apartment Thursday evening for the annual faculty dinner.

Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Burton were guests, and Bill Earl furnished the piano and song entertainment. The blessing was asked by Gerald Nord, principal of the school.

For the dinner, the table was decorated with white candles, evergreens, and white baby mums. Fifty-seven were present. Those on the committee were: Mrs. Leslie Roberts, Paul Cuba, Robert Wilson, Miss Esther Levine, and Miss Mary Scherger, chairman.

ST. MARY'S LADIES CONDUCT ELECTION

At a recent meeting of the St. Mary's Ladies, the annual election officers took place at St. Mary's auditorium, with the following results—president Mrs. Mary Maher (re-elected); vice-president, Mrs. Eugene Buckley; treasurer, Mrs. Cecil Suber; secretary, Mrs. Joseph Heaney. A committee was chosen to distribute treats at the Lawrence County Home.

Mrs. Maher presented gifts to the outgoing officers. Plans were also made for a party to be held in February. Mrs. Maher closed the session with prayer.

Teen-Age Club Meets

Miss Jane Heckathorne, 923 South Mill street, entertained members of the Teen-Age club in her home recently. Plans were discussed for parties and various activities of the group. Games and an informal time was enjoyed and a tasty lunch was served by the hostess aided by Barbara McCune. Next meeting will be announced later.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

School System Needs Attention of Congress

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Our political orators can always squeeze some emotion out of the little red schoolhouse. It is good filler in a political speech—the American system of free education and what it has achieved.

These same political orators had better take a good, hard look at our school system today. Under the pounding of inflation it is crumbling away. That sounds sensational but it comes close to being the truth. If the 80th Congress has any gumption, it will put the political oratory on the shelf for a while and face up to reality. There is no excuse for not knowing what has happened. Suggesting another set of hearings or a convenient study by way of postponing any action will be too obvious a political dodge.

Facts Piled High
The facts are already piled mountain high. Two years ago, the Senate committee on education and labor held extensive hearings on a bill to give Federal aid to education. What the war had done to the school system was put into a record of 430 printed pages.

From almost every state in the union came reports of teachers leaving their desks to take other jobs that would pay a living wage. Consequently schools were closing. Classes were being consolidated into one- and two-room schools.

In Ohio, 300,000 children had new teachers in their classrooms in 1945. Five thousand temporary teaching certificates had been issued in order to keep the schools open. And this meant, according to an official of the Ohio Education Association, that "more than one-eighth of Ohio's teachers have qualifications below the state's reasonable standards."

In Ohio, which is a rich state, the state of Sen. Robert A. Taft and Sen. John W. Bricker, 1482 teachers were employed on an annual salary of $1000 a year or less in 1943. In September, 1944, the legislature provided "temporary additional money" which made increases of from $100 to $200 a teacher possible.

Salaries Increased
Montana reported that "since the bottom of the depression, we have increased the salaries of our school people from an average of $1025 to $1800." But in spite of that increase, the number of teachers had dropped nearly 1000 between May, 1940, and September, 1944. About 1100 of the remaining number were "teaching on emergency certificates based on qualifications as much as two years below the minimum requirements fixed by law."

Grace L. Dodge, president of the Maine Teachers Association, urged active support for measures to provide "greater federal aid, without federal control of educational policy for the public schools of this nation." In a letter to the Senate Education committee, she said: "This step is necessary because the federal government has so far extended its system of taxation that we in Maine find it apparently impossible to secure the funds necessary to support an adequate educational program by means of our present tax structure, which places most of the burden on the overtaxed real estate of our communities."

This was the story from all over the nation two years ago. Colorado reported that the schools in that state faced the "gravest crisis in all their existence." With salaries woefully low, hundreds of teachers were leaving for jobs in industry or for better-paid teaching jobs in other states.

Situation Worse
Since the end of the war, the situation has in some ways grown worse. Many married women who were teaching on a temporary basis while their husbands were at war have quit their jobs. The pinch of inflation has grown much more severe. The National Education Association estimates that 60,000 teaching positions have been closed out from the school year 1942-43 down to the present, and 350,000 qualified teachers have quit their school jobs during the past six years "over and above the losses expected from normal causes."

The most ominous sign of rot in our educational system, however, has to do with teachers' colleges and normal schools. Enrollments in 1942-43 were 60 per cent below 1940-41. Reports from 141 teachers' colleges and normal schools in 1944 showed an enrollment 53 per cent below 1941-42. This means that the supply of teachers is drying up at the source. If that continues for long, we shall have no school system at all.

In this Congress, a variety of proposals to aid the schools will be considered. They cut across many lines of partisanship, which is perhaps why the end product will be serious. In a succeeding column, these possibilities will be considered. (Copyright, 1947, By United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

What People Say

(By International News Service)
WASHINGTON—President Truman tells his new committee on civil rights: "I don't want to see any race discrimination. I don't want to see any religious bigotry."

ATLANTA—Gov. Ellis Arnall of Georgia in a radio broadcast describing the political situation in the southern state: "Georgia is not ready yet to turn its government over to those who undertake to deprive the people of their just and proper rights."

CLEVELAND—C. M. White, president of the Republic Steel Company: "I am not one of those who contend that unions are necessarily a menace to the country. I think good unions, which are well and wisely led and members have some knowledge of economics, can fill a useful place in our business life."

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

(Distributed By International News Service)
Our war taxes on "luxuries" such as electric light bulbs are to be continued in these piping days of non-hostilities.

But so far our legislators haven't gotten around to taxing bachelors $3 a head as now proposed in Argentina . . . Every bachelor I know says that's one more reason to dislike Argentina.

The theory in Argentina is that if one man pays two dollars for a marriage license another should be willing to pay three dollars for his freedom . . . The idea is to equalize license and liberty.

Argentina intends to subsidize marriage . . . Every happy laughing couple will receive $625 from the government.

That's to keep them happy and laughing until they get down to discussing what they're going to do with the money.

It isn't much, but China relief just paid 120 thousand dollars for a home for its administrator . . . Even in Chinese dollars that's a lot of rice.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

One of the most ridiculous ceremonies that has ever come to my attention was reported in an English newspaper.

"Party-one cats who rendered valiant service to Britain during the war by clearing a naval camp of rats have been put to death by the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals," the story started.

Then it went on to tell that, in solemn assembly, a tablet was placed on the communal grave, bearing this inscription:

"Here lie the last remains of forty-one heroes who played their part in killing the enemy and helping the Navy to win victory. They died on active service."

What do you think of that? I wonder how mothers and fathers who lost sons in the war feel when they read that cats were classed with their own boys as heroes who "died on active service."

The cats killed the rats because cats like to kill rats, not because of any valor or sense of duty on their part.

Webster defines a hero as "a man of valor" and a valor is "strength of mind or spirit which enables a man to encounter danger with firmness."

Not even the most ardent lover of cats could ever attribute "strength of mind or spirit" to a cat that kills rats.

I don't deny that those cats did a darn good job in clearing the camp of vermin and thus preventing plague and pestilence.

But they did it because it is their instinct to kill, not because of any spiritual or mental qualities.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Fear and ignorance . . . two words . . . two words that mean a great deal to the people . . . especially when they are preceded or followed by two other words . . . Infantile Paralysis. We have just gone through a very trying period when many new cases of this dreaded disease have caused untold suffering.

From now until the end of January has been set aside for the collections of monies to fight this dreaded disease . . . for treatment of individuals . . . for research. Many new medicines . . . many new ideas on the source of the disease have been carefully studied this past year . . . much progress has been made. In addition and probably more important many suffering boys and girls have been cured of Infantile Paralysis.

It's easy for those who have never seen or had the disease to sit back and say . . . why should I give a dime or a dollar or five dollars to this project. Some one is always asking for money and it never helps me . . . There is where so many so-called smart people (by themselves) show exactly how IGNORANT they are. Can you, who feel that you are not helped, predict when next you will be down sick . . . with a cold . . . with a sore throat . . . with a pain . . . or can you tell when some morning you won't awake to greet the sun? That's how easily you can tell when you will contract Infantile Paralysis.

Let's hope with all our might that no one in this community will ever from this time on contract the disease . . . You don't carry fire insurance on your house with the hope that it will burn down . . . or partly burn and damage your personal goods . . . So you might contract infantile paralysis . . . not the type that will take your life but that type or degree that will stay with you for the rest of your days . . . or maybe you will have a light case . . . the suffering you will go through can't be measured in dollars and cents.

So we ask you to seriously consider digging down . . . a dime at a time if you like . . . and contribute to the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis.

The Parent Problem

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN'S MAXIMS

Two hundred forty-two years ago today Benjamin Franklin was born. How much you and I would like to have met him face to face and to have had our children, particularly our adolescent children, meet him. Next to such a privilege is to read about his life.

Near the end of his life, Franklin wrote his autobiography emphasizing certain human values as he saw them. These values are as precious today as when he wrote of them. His autobiography is still widely read throughout the world and it will live on and on and on.

Relates Boyhood Pranks
In it he relates some of his boyhood pranks and the lessons he derived from the consequences. He tells of his struggles and his steadfast strive toward self-improvement. In his early teens he wrote down definite plans for improving himself. He tells why he wrote each item and how he checked his progress.

Though Franklin had but a few years of regular schooling he became one of the leading scholars of his time and was honored throughout the world for his scientific discoveries. Who else of all time ever accomplished so much at self-education? With every boy and girl over twelve would read Benjamin Franklin's Autobiography. It should make good reading by the whole family to one another.

A Great Leader
Franklin was one of the leaders who molded sentiment for the American Revolution and for union of the colonies for its success. He was one of the fathers of the Declaration of Independence and the oldest and wisest man at the convention which framed the constitution of our Republic. Undoubtedly he was more useful than any other man but George Washington, during the birth and infancy of the United States of America.

Writings Were Quoted
His writings, while he lived, were quoted more widely among the colonists than the writings of any other man. What was most often quoted then is quoted still, especially the proverbs he printed in his "Poor Richard's Almanac."

Here are a few of those proverbs: "Early to bed and early to rise makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise." "A sleeping fox catches no poultry." "Last time is never found again." "One today is worth two tomorrows." "Be ashamed to catch yourself idle." "The cat in gloves catches no mice." And also: "Constant dripping wears away stones." "Want of care is more damaging than want of knowledge." "Think of saving as well as getting." "Beware of little expenses." "A small leak will sink a great ship." "If you would know the value of money, go and try to borrow some." "He that goes a-borrowing goes a-sorrowing." "He that won't be counseled can't be helped."

Every school child should copy, read and memorize these proverbs. For many years, you know, use of proverbs at school was taboo. Fortunately they are returning to the classroom.

SUBWAY CARS FOR WOMEN
Transit riders in large cities appear to be brothers and sisters only under the skin. While writers of letters to The Bulletin have been urging that subway cars during rush hours be reserved exclusively for men or women, New York's Board of Transportation is taking under serious consideration establishment of that kind of service.

Numerous requests of women, citing unpleasant rush hour experiences, are responsible for New York's plan to give the ladies a car or two of their own on express trains. Here, too, riders have been citing disagreeable experiences.

English trains for years have had compartments reserved for exclusive occupancy by women, so there's nothing really new in New York's proposition. Putting it into effect is not as simple as it might sound, however. Additional platform men may be needed to keep men out of the cars.

Still to be heard from are advocates of equal rights for women. What are they going to say about this rank discrimination?—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

JEALOUSY AND ITS CAUSES

"Please write something about men, who, while out with their wives, look at other women. My sister says her husband is very faithful, she nevertheless, finds this trait very annoying. I am sure that other women suffer from this same embarrassment."

Answer: If happiness depends upon such a monopoly as your sister wants, Eve, who had the Garden of Eden all to herself without any feminine interference, was probably the only woman from the beginning of time who was ever completely happy.

'Tis a pity, indeed, that the majority of women have this jealous streak within them and that so few try to conquer it. Sometimes it is justified but usually it results from an over-active imagination. Your sister appears to be looking for trouble. You know the old saying: "A woman poor thing's just as old as she looks but a man's never old 'til he stops looking." So much for the feminine angle.

Now for some advice to the men: Nothing is more discourteous to your wife or sweetheart than obviously "making a pass" even with your eyes at other women. There is no harm in a married man's looking at or even admiring a pretty woman. We all admire beauty. Perhaps, you might say, you are merely unfavorably comparing other women with your wife—that in so doing you realize how lucky you are. But in as much as your wife in all probability will never believe you, you had better save such glances of appraisal until you are alone.

My advice to you is: Feast your eyes during these moments but be sure to tell the little woman when you go home that of all the girls you see during your daily grind, she is tops. Women like reassurance every day.

Question: A month ago I received an invitation to a wedding but could not attend because of illness. I did not send a gift. May I do so now or is it too late?

Answer: No. It is not too late. Send your gift along with a note explaining its delay.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

HANDICAP

Ben and Joe are matched to run a race. Ben is a lot faster than Joe so he is set back three yards. He is said to have a handicap. In order to win the race he must run the full course and three yards more and beat Joe to the goal.

Maud S. and Star Pointer are to go a mile. Star pointer is faster so he must pull extra weight. He is said to be handicapped by fifty pounds or whatsoever.

Sometimes a person has a handicap. He may be born with a blemish. He may have an injury and lose an arm or an eye. If he has good stuff in him he will go ahead and win the race.

Sometimes spectators know about the handicap and cheer the horse with the extra load.

Sometimes the handicap is unknown to the on lookers. A high class horse will try as hard as he can regardless of a handicap.

A man should be better than a horse.

DESK TOP

Time was, when it was shiny new. My gleaming desk top I could view. I took a solemn vow that day. As far to look upon 't would stay. But here's what makes the women wince. No one has seen its surface since.

Who comes to visit, sadly looks Upon a pile of favorite books. Some magazines I thought I'd need And later find the time to read: Let's I've tossed aside, which I intend to answer by and by.

I shout when women stand and moan: "Hands off! You leave my desk alone!" Sweep, scrub and rearrange and dust. Hang up and hide things if you must.

But shake your heads and go away: That's how, till death, my desk will stay.

Views Of The News

By J. C. OESTREICHER
(U.S. Foreign Editor)

Another setback for Anglo-American diplomacy in central Europe is recorded, strengthening the unhappily belated Washington and London carry little weight with nations lying inside the orbit of Soviet influence.

This time the issue revolved about Poland, where elections are scheduled for Sunday.

The state department charged that the Communist-controlled Polish government had violated the Potsdam and Yalta agreements by taking a strong-arm pre-election measures to ensure victory.

A formal American note said it was amply clear that under present conditions, free and unfettered balloting has become impossible.

Poland's answer, backed up by no less a personage than Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, was a sharp and complete rebuttal.

Russian Attitude
Over and above everything else, the Russian attitude was that the United States has no right whatever to interfere in the internal affairs of Poland.

This stalemated conflict between east and west served simply to underscore the whole great tragedy of Poland which almost two years after the end of the second world war, is still a house divided against itself.

At one time, there were hopes for agreement that would make possible a forward-looking, progressive coalition government.

The leader of the anti-Communist peasant party, Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, was taken into the government as vice-premier. But his activities have been snowed under an avalanche of Communist propaganda. His party's newspapers have been suppressed, his followers arrested and terrorized.

Polish authorities make no secret of the fact that summary steps have been taken against the opposition. But they claim this was made necessary by the peasant party men themselves, whom they accuse of fomenting disorders and launching a terrorism of their own.

Outside Western Grasp
Solution of Poland's problems seem to lie outside the grasp of the western democracies.

The country was blown to bits and impoverished by the war and any progress toward recovery has been slow indeed. Now the Polish people are going to the polls in an election whose results presumably will not be recognized as legal by the United States and Great Britain.

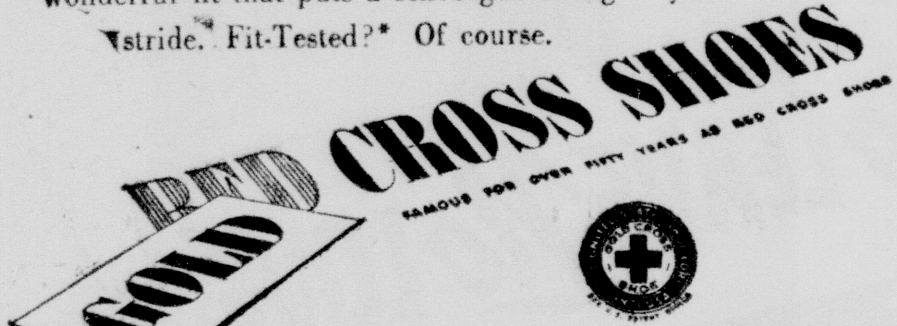

This can only have the effect of throwing Poland deeper and deeper into the areas of Soviet Russia at a time when good and open relations all around would be a contributory factor to permanent peace. Poland will loom large in negotiations for a German peace treaty. She will be regarded as a Soviet Poland rather than an independent one, with accompanying complications that may prove to be vexing indeed.

New Erie Bishop Will Visit City Monday Evening

Dinner Meeting In Trinity Episcopal Church To Honor Rt. Rev. Harold Sawyer

RT. REV. H. E. SAWYER

Rt. Rev. Harold E. Sawyer, newly-elected bishop of Erie will make his first official visit to New Castle Monday, Jan. 20, when he attends the annual parish dinner and meeting in the guildroom of the Trinity Episcopal church.

A record attendance is expected for the occasion which will begin at 6:30 p. m.

Connecticut Native

Bishop Sawyer is a native of Clinton, Conn., and is a graduate of General Theological seminary in 1916, receiving his M. A. from Columbia university in 1919. He was ordained to the priesthood in 1917 and was curate of the Church of the Redeemer in Morristown, N. J., until 1918, when he was called to St. Agnes chapel, Trinity parish, in New York City and remained there until 1923. From 1924 until his recent election as bishop he was rector of Grace church, Utica, N. Y., and while in the diocese of central New York he has held numerous important diocesan positions. Bishop Sawyer is the fourth bishop of Erie which comprises the thirteen northwestern counties of Pennsylvania and was elected September 5, 1946, at St. Paul's Cathedral, Erie, to succeed the late Bishop E. Pinkney Wroth and was consecrated in Grace church, Utica, on November 6, 1946.

To Honor Rev Griswold

In addition to the reception for Bishop Sawyer the parish will also honor the Rev Robert M. C. Griswold, rector who leaves the local church at the end of this month following five years of successful rectorship to accept a call to St. Luke's and St. Matthews church at Brooklyn, N. Y.

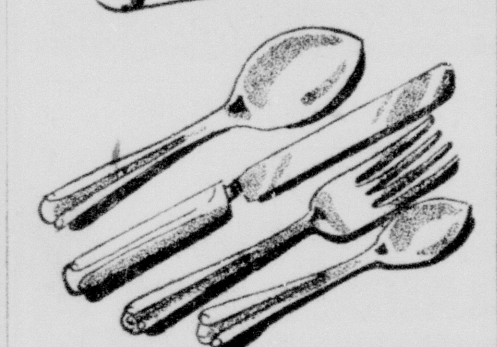

Because of the large attendance anticipated, the dinner and meeting is restricted to members and others connected with the local parish and the churches of St. Andrews, Long avenue, and St. Luke's, Ellwood city.

The election of three vestmen and the meeting of annual reports of organizations will constitute the business session of the meeting. The dinner is sponsored by the parish council with Mrs. George Hietsch in charge of the kitchen and the Junior Woman's guild under the leadership of Mrs. D. M. Arnold in charge of serving.

Would Force Minors To Carry Picture

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 17.—(INS)—The Night Club Owners' Guild of Pittsburgh today was drafting a request for legislation requiring every voter in Pennsylvania to have his picture on vote registration cards. Joseph Lieber, executive secretary of the organization, said such a measure would be sought as a means of preventing minors from obtaining intoxicants at night clubs. He said that many minors borrow draft registration cards from friends and produce them if their age is questioned.

"If the law required a picture on every vote card, then they no longer could fake their age," he said. "It's the best plan we've found yet to keep them from buying drinks when they are not of age."

Steel Firm Files Action To Erase Portal Pay Suits

Allegheny Ludlum Would Abolish Suits For Employees Not Specifically Designated

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Allegheny Ludlum Steel corporation today had on file in Federal court in Pittsburgh an action designed to eliminate portal-to-portal pay suits for employees not specifically named in complaints.

The motion was filed yesterday by Frank B. Ingersoll, counsel for the firm, in connection with a portal pay suit brought against the company by the CIO-United Steelworkers, in behalf of 8000 employees in its Brackenridge and Leechburg plants.

The motion also asked that all claims by parties to the suit for the period preceding six years before filing of the complaint last Dec. 27 be dismissed on the grounds that such claims are barred by the statute of limitations.

The Steelworkers complaint listed but 540 names of persons who had executed warrants of authority authorizing the suit, although it stated it was brought in behalf of approximately 8000 workers.

Meanwhile, five new portal-to-portal suits were filed yesterday, totalling $6,220,000 and bringing to a total $519,280,000 the amount sought in such suits in Pittsburgh Federal court.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 17.—(INS)—The Western Pennsylvania candy dealers today declared what the country needs is not a good five cent cigar—but the return of the nickel candy bar.

If sugar rationing ends, manufacturers may be able to absorb labor and raw material costs through mass production, a spokesman said. When that happens wholesalers may expect a price cut. At present the general price is six cents for a five cent candy bar.

GIRL SCOUTS

Mt. Jackson Troop 30
Girl Scout Troop 30 of Mt. Jackson met Wednesday evening for the first of a series of first aid lessons taught by Mrs. James Crea, registered nurse, who will conduct the course for six or eight weeks.

Girls who did not work on first aid did painting and badge work. This troop is sponsoring a spaghetti dinner in Westfield Grange hall, Enon Valley-Mt. Jackson road, Saturday evening, February 1.

Those interested in handicrafts will meet at the home of the troop's leader, Mrs. Clarence Shumaker, on Saturday afternoon from 2 o'clock until 4.

Program Committee Plans
Meeting in the office of the Lawrence County Girl Scout Council, the council's program committee made plans to assist Mrs. Plummer D. Gibson in carrying out arrangements for the annual Brownie dinner, the next major event on the Girl Scout calendar.

The committee also heard Mrs. Gibson's report on the making of tray favors for Christmas. Three hundred and seventy-two favors were made and distributed to the Margaret Henry Home for Children, the New Castle and Jameson Memorial hospitals, the Almira Home and the county home.

Troops working on these were: troop 21, under Mrs. Wesley Tegge; troop 10, Mrs. C. C. McDermott; troop 4, Mrs. Walter Jessel; troop 22, Mrs. Fred Jenkins; troop 3, Miss Laura Snider; troop 31, Mrs. Earl McKendzie; troop 40, Mrs. J. Bender; troop 15, Mrs. Glen Carpenter; and troop 48, Mrs. James Davis. This work was under the direction of Mrs. Gibson, assisted by Mrs. Richard Houk.

Plans were also made for a skating party near Easter.

The committee will arrange its next meeting date to suit the plans of the Brownie dinner.

Realtors To Meet With City Council

Seek To Clarify Details In Proposals For Sale Of City Building

Following a meeting between the board of realtors, it was stated by Assessor George Patterson to council Thursday that the members will meet again with council to clarify certain points relative to the proposed sale of the city building. What and what does not count as a prospect will be determined. The sale of the city structure is in the hands of only members of the board and the city hopes to get a fair price and will pay the agent disposing of the structure.

Material For Sale
Property Director Joe D. Alexander reported to council Thursday that a front end mount pump (OCD bought by the city) had been sold and delivered to the Mt. Jackson-North Beaver township fire department, and added that other boroughs and townships desire pumps may apply to the city.

Jamison To Report
When council met Thursday in city hall, Solicitor Robert White stated that because of ankle fracture sustained by Gilbert E. Long, his assistant, he would require assistance in the legal department. Council decided to pay Attorney Long for his service until February 1, but instructed that Attorney Robert E. Jamison, named recently as Long's successor, effective February 1, report immediately for work in the city's legal bureau.

Goodwill Group Committee Will Meet Next Week

Executive committee of the Goodwill conference will meet in the public library Wednesday afternoon, January 22, at 1:30. Rev. Thomas J. Jones is in charge.

The conference will plan for a meeting of the conference in January and will plan for the Brotherhood Week in February. Representatives of the Jewish, Protestant, Catholic and Negro groups will attend the executive committee meetings.

Neshannock Twp. Dog Owners Warned

Dog owners of Neshannock township were today given warning by Constable T. R. Altman, that their dogs must be licensed according to the provisions of the law, and also that they must be kept tied.

Many complaints have come to Mr. Altman regarding dogs which are allowed to run loose, and dogs which are permitted to run astray will be shot, he warned.

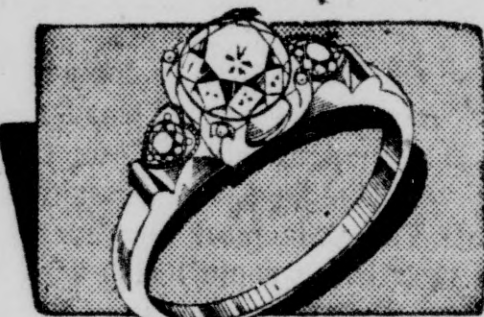

HELD IN FRAUD
MEADVILLE, Pa., Jan. 17.—(INS)—Three men were being held in Meadville today and a fourth was scheduled to be arraigned on charges of defrauding three Crawford and Clearfield county business men of $8,000 on alleged promises to deliver sugar and automobile tires.

Police Chief E. C. Gibson said William Wallace, 48, of Leontes Mills, his nephew James Wallace, 24, of Meadville, and Vernon Hancock, 40, of Northeast, were being held. The fourth man, Edward Einsig, 44, of Pottsville, was slated to appear for arraignment.

Only One Barber For Every 280 Men Survey Discloses

HARRISBURG, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Hey, fellows: If your wife or girl friend asks why you stay away so long when you go to the barbers just tell her its because there is only one tonsorial artist for every 280 men.

And just before an argument starts, tell her its a wonder she couldn't get through her rites at the beauty parlor a little sooner because there were proportionately more beauticians in Pennsylvania than barbers.

In fact, there is one beauty parlor operator for every 180 women. Tell her the state department of public instruction says so and you are no man to argue with official statistics.

If she hankers for a few more old facts, tell her to stick these in her elegant coiffure: Last year the number of beauticians in the state increased 20 per cent while barber registrations inched up two per cent, making a total of 34,595 beauticians and 17,405 barbers.

When you have the little woman mollified, trot around to your barber shop, tell your favorite hair-snipper. He may be struck speechless by your newfound knowledge and give you a job without the usual chatter.

PUC Asked To Probe Sharon Bus Service

SHARON, Jan. 17.—Bus service in Sharon, Farrell and Sharpville was under fire at the Tuesday meeting of the Sharon city council when the solons unanimously invited the PUC to probe the service being provided in the valley cities. The Shenango Valley Transportation company was accused by the Shenango Industrial Union Council, in a letter to the city fathers, of providing service that falls short of community needs.

Sharon council was urged by the industrial group in their letter "to reopen the franchise so that competitors may be allowed to bid for this public service if the company failed to provide additional buses."

Young Musicians From Here To Enter Contests This Year

Band and orchestra leader Joseph F. Replogle is planning to enter about twelve New Castle Senior high school students in the state Music and Forensic contest this spring.

The students, forming a piano trio, are already chosen, but the other groups are yet to be selected. In the trio are: Lois Baum, piano; Eleanor Lutton, violin; and Tom Wyand, cello. Other events will be a string quartet and a woodwind quintet.

State-wide finals will be held at York this year, on April 18 and 19.

Congress Urged To Take Action On Labor Issues

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—(INS)—The National Association of Manufacturers Thursday urged Congress to act not only on portal-to-portal pay but to kill other "unrealistic changes" which might be even more costly to industry.

Spokesmen asserted before the Senate judiciary committee that the Supreme Court's decision in the portal case will "destroy" law-abiding employers unless remedial legislation is adopted.

Raymond S. Smethurst, NAM counsel, told the committee that the portal suits are "founded on an unrealistic, judicial concept of work". He added that Congress should outlaw such claims and also should approve legislation killing "retroactive liability" against employers.

Smethurst was one of a half dozen industry representatives testifying in behalf of legislation to nullify the Supreme Court decision upholding labor's right to back portal pay.

Remedial Legislation
Smethurst outlined a six-point minimum basis for remedial legislation:

1. Bar prosecution of claims pending or hereafter filed by prohibiting courts from making decisions retroactive in the portal cases.
2. Extend "full faith and credit" and legal protection to practices established by agreement or custom, unless barred by statute or regulation.

3. Limit liability in pending or future litigation by fixing a one-year statute of limitations and outlawing double penalties except in cases of willful violation.
4. Authorize and validate settlement or release agreements entered into in good faith and without fraud or duress.

5. Grant employers immunity from liability if their practices conform with regulations, interpretations or enforcement policies.

6. Require that claimants in court shall carry the burden of proving their cases.

Trousers Lock Aimed To Foil Pickpocket Men

Chicago Tailor Invents Safety Lock To Halt Ravages Of Pick-pocket Crowd

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Joseph Yagodnik of Chicago today believed he has half the problem of the disappearing wallet licked.

And he is the first to admit that the hardest part is still to come.

Yagodnik has added something new to men's pants—a safety lock—which will stop pickpockets cold, but won't stop the little woman for more than a couple of minutes.

A tailor who has been making men's pants for 25 years, he got the inspiration for his lock back in 1926. He said:

"I got pushed around on a street car. Later, I found my wallet had been lifted from my hip pocket. I've been working on this problem ever since."

After studying methods of the dips, as pickpockets are known among the trade, he concluded that skin-tight pants were the solution. But what to do about the problem of sitting down?

He studied the question from all angles, built hundreds of models and in 1940 finally hit upon his safety lock. But by then the war came along and held up production.

Now he is in business—as the Apparel Safety-Lock Pockets Co. Business is booming. He said:

"Inquiries are rolling in from all over. I don't make pants or pockets. I sell licenses and pants makers do the rest."

The Yagodnik pocket looks like any other pocket. But, says its inventor, it locks completely, is practical, fool-proof and pick-proof.

The only trouble, the inventor admits with a sigh, is that it won't stop the little woman.

Rev. Fred W. Hunt To Speak At Epworth

'Stewardship' Will Be Theme Of Executive Secretary Of Erie Conference

Rev. Fred W. Hunt, executive secretary of Erie Conference Board of Education, will be the speaker at the morning worship service of Epworth Methodist church on Sunday, January 19, at 11 o'clock. He will bring a message on "Stewardship", which is the theme on which the Methodist church is placing an emphasis throughout 1947.

Rev. Hunt was appointed to his position as executive secretary at the session of the Erie conference held in September 1946, and his appearance will be one of the first he has made in New Castle. He served as a chaplain in the U. S. States Army, until early in September, having the rank of major. His chaplaincy was spent at Fort J. C. Smith, Ala.; Ft. Schuyl, Calif., and as a transport chaplain to 30th Europe and China.

Not Out Of HandSo Declares National Fire
Authority In Conference
At PhiladelphiaSAYS PROGRESS
IS BEING MADEPHILADELPHIA, Jan. 17.—(INS)—
A national fire authority expressed belief that the nation is on the road to minimizing fire losses.Horatio Bond, of Boston, chief engineer of the National Fire Protection Association, admitted that fire damages in 1946 accounted for 10,000 lives and $560 million in property."But the property loss is actually less than in 1945 because of the increased valuation of buildings and furnishings", Bond pointed out.He and other fire-fighting experts from all parts of North America were in Philadelphia for a conference to map strategy against disastrous hotel fires."Actually", the Boston engineer declared, "we're making good progress, progress that is overlooked in the hue and cry resulting from the recent great hotel fires and the subsequent publicity."Not Out Of Hand
"The fire situation is by no means out of hand. More people than ever before now understand the problems of controlling fires and how to cope with them.""Engineers and architects are better informed as to the methods of building fire-resistant structures with proper exits. And the country's fire departments are doing a very fine job, too."Bond explained that in general there are no new methods of assuring protection against fire.The chief precautions, he said, are to reduce the amount of combustible material in a building as much as possible and to organize building employees in advance into fire-fighting squads."To persons who frequent hotels or other large buildings", Bond emphasized, "I want to point out that most fires take a long time to get started. Close the doors and transom and wait for help as long as you can. Jumping is usually fatal.""I would advise that persons trapped in a fire straddle the window sill and close the window behind you. This way, you avoid smoke and gas fumes and leave only your leg exposed inside the room. Beforehand, learn the location of at least two exits."STUDENTS HEAR BISHOPNEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 17.—

New Oil-Gas SourcesHARRISBURG, Jan. 17.—(INS)—
A vast oil research program in the northwestern production fields was scouted today by the Department of internal affairs under a proposed $100,000 state appropriation.For the 1947-49 biennium, Deputy Secretary S. C. C. Braucher said, the Budget office had asked to add $15,000 to the 1945-47 allocation of $85,000."We have set up our budget plan with provision to allocate additional funds," he said. Oil men think there are hidden sources of oil and gas that can be developed if the state finances the project."Field offices at Butler, Oil City and Pittsburgh would be enlarged if the expanded program wins legislative approval, he added.The Bureau of Topographic and Geologic Survey expressed the belief that new methods of forcing oil from the sub-surface were needed.The bureau estimated there was a reserve of 3,545,000,000 barrels of the premium fuel. The peak yield was 31,424,000 barrels in 1892. Output declined steadily to a low point of 7,408,000 barrels in 1918, the bureau said, but development of secondary recovery methods boosted annual yields to approximately 12,500,000.Inaugural Ball

Dog Tag Sales Are Mounting

But Sales In County Are Slow According To Report Of Treasurer

Gradually the sale of dog tags is climbing in the county treasurer's office but slowly. At noon Thursday 2062 tags had been sold which is about 20 per cent of the total sold in 1946. Apparently dog owners are in no hurry to tag their dogs although until they do they are in violation of the dog law and can be arrested and fined.

It is not necessary to go to the county treasurer's office in person for a tag. Mail in your request enclosing the proper fee and three cents for return postage.

Give the breed, age and color of the dog, state the sex, the owners name and address. If the dog is a male enclose $1.13, of which $1.10 is the fee and three cents postage. If the dog is a female enclose $2.13 of which $2.10 is the fee and three cents is the postage.

The tag costs the same now as it will next August or September and nothing is saved by waiting except perhaps a fine of $25.

SHERIFF'S SALES

Not so many years ago the sheriff's sales in the court house would see thirty or forty pieces of property sold monthly. Today it is different. The sheriff's sale called for Monday, Feb. 3, has only two pieces up for bid and even these may be settled before sale day.

REGISTRATION WITHDRAWALS

Some rather disturbing figures are shown in the cancellations of voting privileges for failure to vote in the two years last past. The City of New Castle had 21,550 registered voters as of November 6, 1946. Of this number 4,739 failed to vote for two years and their names have been withdrawn. In other words, two per cent of the voters in this city thought too little of their franchise to vote once in four years, two primaries and two general elections in the two years last past.

In Shenango township the percentage is even higher. The township had 1,462 registered voters on November 6, 1946. Of this number 381 failed to vote in the past two years or approximately 26 out of every 100.

Notices are being sent to the voters whose names are being withdrawn. With the notice is a card of reinstatement. All that is necessary to be reinstated is to sign the card and return it to the court house.

The voter has ten days in which to do this. After that he will have to register again.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD

International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Katharine Hepburn has just done the "impossible." She admits it almost drove her crazy.

What she did was to learn two difficult piano solos for her new M-G-M picture, "Song of Love." She portrays the world's foremost pianiste, and that, of course, was the reason for her very difficult chore. She'd never played a note before she started the picture.

Katie said: "I can play the pieces all right, but I'll admit I don't know what I'm doing. I learned it just like an idiot would, without knowing why I did each thing. All I knew was that there were black and white keys.

"I just worked and worked and practiced and practiced, even on Sundays.

"Sometimes I thought I was going mad."

Your reporter interposed: "It seems to me you've accomplished the impossible."

Our fair lady replied: "I don't know about that, but I do know one thing; I'll never in the future feel that anything is impossible."

In view of the fact she's made three pictures in a row, where she never before made more than one between Broadway plays, your reporter wanted to know when she planned to return to the stage.

La Hepburn threw up her hands and said: "I'm not even thinking about it now. When I'm finished with this picture I don't know whether I want to do anything for a year. I've only had six weeks off in the more than a year I've been doing these three pictures and three weeks were pretty hectic. I think I could do with a rest."

Virginia Field, the English-born beauty, is another gal who wishes things would ease up a bit. Right at the moment she's about the busiest lady in town.

In the daytime she's been working in Ben Bozeaus' "Christmas Eve." She leaves there at 6 p. m. to have her hair dressed for evening costume tests in Eagle-Lion's "Repeat Performance," in which she's to be co-starred with Louis Hayward.

She's been spending Sundays at Paramount having advertising photographs taken for her last picture, "Variety Girl."

"I haven't had a minute to myself," Virginia said, making it clear she plans no more pictures immediately after completing "Repeat Performance" late this spring.

"I do hope I can visit England," she said, "it's been a long time. I would love to make a picture over there, but nothing is set yet."

Liberty Grange To Present Play

Liberty Grange play cast will present the play "Husbands Don't Know Everything," on Monday evening, January 20 at 8 o'clock in the grange hall.

Characters in the play are as follows: Wilbur Parkhurst, a husband, who has the family under control, played by Russell Book; Ada Parkhurst, his wife, who finally upsets the old regime, Hannah Morrow; Joan Parkhurst, the daughter, who wants a career, Barbara Hadley; Dan Parkhurst, the son with his own ideas, Harold Johnson; Rupert Evans, Ada's brother, Audley Locke; Stella Bugga, neighbor, Mildred Allison; Madam Wills, a teacher, Minnie Doloughan; Mrs. Miles and Mrs. Dexter, Ada's friends, Marlon McConnell and Ruth Past, respectively.

The word hose originally meant breeches reaching only to the knee.

Russia Rejects U.S. Appeal On Polish Election

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Russia on Thursday rejected a United States appeal for a three-power refusal to recognize the coming Polish provisional government elections.

A State Department spokesman said the Soviet rejection came as no surprise. He added that a reply from Moscow had not even been anticipated until after the elections.

The Russian note refusing to join the United States and Britain in a tripartite move cited underground action against the Polish regime.

The note added:

"The Soviet government does not perceive any basis for the taking of such steps... in connection with the impending elections in Poland and thereby in this fashion bringing about interference in the internal affairs of Poland on the part of the powers who signed the Yalta and Berlin agreements."

The British as well as the Russian governments had been solicited by the United States to aid in action to end the alleged terrorism which has marked the violent free election campaign.

In its note Russia alleged that the United States had presented only charges made by Vice-Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, head of the Polish Peasant Party.

Charge Facts Ignored

The American note, the Russians charged, "completely ignored widely known facts concerning the participation of certain of the members of Mikolajczyk's party in the activities of the underground organizations, resort to every kind of threat, to violence and to murder in order to interfere with the normal conduct of the electoral campaign of the Sejm (Parliament)."

Declaring that Poland had suffered years of German occupation with resultant difficult economic conditions and remnants of "banditry," the note added:

"It is impossible also to ignore the criminal activities of a fascist emigre circles endeavoring to base themselves on their underground organizations in Poland, particularly, having in view the connection of these underground organizations with the bandit elements who avail themselves of every kind of violence, even of murder, to representatives of the Polish authorities and leaders of the Democratic parties."

Babson Tells Industry Of Some Problems Ahead

By ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright, 1947, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.

BABSON PARK, Pa., Jan. 17.—With a Republican Congress and the public trend toward conservatism, industry will be getting back again a measure of its beloved freedom of enterprise and freedom from controls at a very difficult time. We are ending a period of rising prices. Following the law of action and reaction, we are heading toward a period of declining prices.

Many inventories are already very high. Production is catching up, and the public is showing a marked tendency to pick and choose in buying or to desist altogether. As I predicted in a previous article, discussing fish prices, we are seeing the beginning of a buyers' market. As this continues, businesses are apt to be left with inventories much reduced in value.

Strikes have so retarded normal production in the nation that recession problems have been multiplied. Constant wage-increase demands from labor unions are causing still higher production costs and higher prices. Portal-to-portal retroactive pay suits from some of the greedier unions are further threats to business stability. These are some of the difficulties management is facing today.

Can Business Accept the Challenge?

Now, if business is again to be given free initiative, and at least as much support from government as labor has had since 1932, can a plan be devised that will be profitable to U. S. business and also cause labor to produce at a maximum of efficiency? Management will not and cannot operate without profits. But, given freedom again to make profits, will management be able to unite radical and conservative elements in support of an honest day's work for an honest day's pay? This requires giving an opportunity to get ahead for those whose efficiency and ability have earned that privilege.

Can industry handle unemployment wisely if and when it comes or can it provide eventually for continuous unemployment? If not, can it provide adequate workable wage guarantees which will give the worker a reasonable sense of security? A government survey on guaranteed annual wages has revealed that fewer than 75,000 workers have thus far come under any sort of guaranteed wage plan in the United States, whereas, there are said to be around 200 such plans in existence. This is because most employers claim that no one of these plans is as yet really practicable. An example of how unreasonably expensive such a plan can be, in spite of the good will it earns from employees, was seen at Hormel packing houses during 1946.

Republicans Beware!

A Hormel plant in Minnesota was able to slaughter less than one-sixth of its usual number of hogs and cattle. But employees in that plant, though working less than two hours one week, received a full week's pay. Under continuous similar conditions a guaranteed pay plan of this sort might ruin a business. However, the need of soon finding a mutually satisfactory plan would be desirable. Since it is something labor so desperately wants, the Republicans will be wise to help work out as good a plan as possible in this direction.

Business must operate with reasonable freedom and yet without the narrow, Godless point of view of each for himself. Such a short-sighted attitude has characterized too much labor and business leadership in the past. These questions must be tackled with vision and wisdom for industry to work out a plan of cooperation and fair-play all around. Management must succeed in this as both government and labor have failed. Only by so doing will a period of profitable prosperity be assured for the years ahead. If industry muffs her opportunity to solve some of these problems, management may lose the confidence of the American people and also the thing it cherishes most dearly—freedom of enterprise. I repeat: the Republicans have not yet been given a victory—but only an opportunity.

Robert F. Scott, English naval officer and explorer, set out in 1910 in command of an expedition to the South Pole. Two years later, after untold hardships and a final sledge journey of 1842 miles, he and four companions reached the South Pole only to find that Roald Amundsen had arrived there five weeks before. Scott and his four men succumbed to starvation and exposure on the return trip.

Surgeon Removes Inch And Half Of Phrenic Nerve; Girl's Condition Serious

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Anna Mayer, 23-year-old blonde singer was reported today in serious but not critical condition following an operation to stop a 60-day attack of hiccoughs.

The operation, performed by Dr. Lester Samuels, was pronounced successful. Dr. Samuels, chief surgeon of the Veterans Administration hospital at Alexandria, Va., removed an inch and a half of the phrenic nerve from the young woman. The phrenic nerve controls the diaphragm.

Dr. Samuels declined to comment on the operation but it was learned that an incision was made on the right side of Miss Mayer's neck below the collar bone and that the nerve described as normally the thickness of an ordinary toothpick was found to be inflamed and swollen in sections to twice its regular size.

Dr. Samuels came to New York after the parents of Miss Mayer had appealed to President Truman to allow him leave from the Veterans hospital to perform the operation. He had performed a somewhat similar operation on Miss Mayer in 1944 when he severed the phrenic nerve on the girl's left side to stop a severe attack of hiccoughs.

Western Union Files New Tariff Rates In State

HARRISBURG, Jan. 17.—(INS)—The Public Utility Commission announced today that Western Union Telegraph Company has filed a new tariff proposing an approximate 10 per cent increase in telegraph message rates effective March 17. The federal government has approved the increases.

So-called "exceptional" or "special" rates previously applicable in specified instances such as sports broadcasts will be withdrawn the commission explained. The application of the company's regular rate schedule for these services will result in boosts, the PUC added.

Under the tariff, rates for stock quotation service would be boosted approximately 15 per cent, the commission added. Charges for telegraph money orders would be completely revised, resulting in a 4.3 per cent "overall increase."

The schedule for money orders was so arranged, the commission explained, that "the rate for certain amounts of such order will be slightly reduced."

BUY WAA REFINERY

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Regional War Assets Administrator Frank L. McNamee disclosed today that the federal agency has sold a refinery unit and auxiliaries in Oil City to the Koppers Co., Inc. for $1,230,125.

During the war the refinery was operated by the Pennzoil Co. to produce alkylate, a component of aviation gasoline. McNamee said the Koppers Company plans to operate the refinery for production of organic chemicals.

Westminster Dean W. C. T. U. Speaker

Two Hundred Women Assemble In First Methodist Church For Annual
WCTU Luncheon

More than 200 women and friends of the Lawrence County W. C. T. U. met in the First Methodist church,
North Jefferson street, Thursday at noon, for the annual W. C. T. U.
Loyalty luncheon.

Dr. J. W. Harper McKnight, dean of men and pastor of Westminster College, New Wilmington, was the after dinner speaker and was introduced by Mrs. W. J. Fox, Lawrence county president of the W.
C. T. U.

Dr. McKnight took advantage of the theme of the luncheon which brought the women together and chose as his timely subject, "Loyalty" bringing out the diversities in every day walk of life. Among the loyalties that were stressed by the speaker were: loyalty to country
i. e. patriotism; loyalty to family;
loyalty to the church and above all, a distinct loyalty to Christ.

"In these days," stated Dr. Mc-Knight, "loyalty to Christ must continue until the victory comes, no matter in what sphere we choose to show our devotion. Loyalty must continue to society. We must show practical Christian service to win others to Christ."

Program Presented

Preceding the address of the afternoon, Mrs. W. J. Fox, introduced Mrs. John Orr of New Wilmington who sang very effectively, "The Prayer Perfect" and the "Green Cathedral". She was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Harold Burns also of New Wilmington. Mrs.
Burns directed in group singing, with Mrs. Charles Campbell at the piano.

During the dinner, Mrs. Floyd Worrell, county vice-president, introduced the guests of the afternoon. These included the speaker,
Dr. J. W. H. McKnight, Captain
Thelma Dundon, and Lt. Lucy
Hotchkiss of the Salvation Army;
District Attorney Leroy Donaldson;
County Probation Office Jack Dunlap and Mrs. Dunlap; Rev. and Mrs. Fred Cochran, of Plain Grove; Dr. Burr R. McKnight, pastor of the host church.

Preceding the Loyalty Luncheon, at 10 a. m., the Lawrence County executive committee met in one of the church rooms for their regular meeting, with Mrs. Fox in charge. Mrs. Floyd Worrell reported of her recent visit to Deshon hospital and her interview with the officer of special services, F. X.
Keating. An appeal was made for light fiction and classic records.

The report of the various county committees was heard and it was announced that plans are going forth for the annual Bi-County Institute. Plans were also laid for the annual hospitality tea with the proceeds being used to entertain the delegates to the world convention of the W. C. T. U. at Asbury Park, N. J., in June.

Dr. Burr McKnight, pastor of the host church pronounced the benediction before the dinner meeting was dismissed.

Starts Action To Continue High Luxury Taxes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—(INS)— Rep. Grant (R) Ind., Thursday introduced legislation to continue high warranty taxes on liquor, jewelry, furs, and other luxury items for an indefinite period.

Grant sponsored the legislation after Republican members to the House ways and means committee decided "unanimously" to continue the levies, which were due to expire
July 1.

Under present laws, the taxes would revert to their lower pre-war rates on July 1 because of President Truman's declaration of an "end of hostilities." This would cost the government one billion, 250 million dollars to one billion, 500 million dollars annually.

Grant declared that the market for luxury items has been in "stagnation" ever since the public became aware that lower taxes would apply after mid-year.

He said: "It is imperative that this situation be remedied and it must be done promptly."

Seven per cent of the U. S. population is more than 65 years of age.

Shifting Sands Make Pipelaying In Texas Irksome

Treacherous Erosion Big Obstacle To Oil Company Working In U. S. Wasteland

FORT WORTH, Tex., Jan. 17.—(INS)—Pipelayers who laid the Humble Oil & Refining company's tube from Winkler county to Crane county in West Texas declare that Sahara desert stringing would be just a breeze.

At several points of the right-of-way the shifting dunes of the Monahans sands (a tourist delight) are encountered.

When the carrier was charted in 1928 it took the survey crew three days and nights to cross the sands. So impassable were the dunes that the pipe had to be dragged across them section at a time, by mules teams and stripped wagons.

Tons of sand was excavated before the ditch could be dug. Leveling of the ditch was next to impossible.

The trench went down 18 inches as prescribed by law—but it didn't stay there. The sands continued to shift and in many places the line was left high and dry. On the other hand severe wind storms piled tons of sand on other sections of the line.

To offset the lack of support to the "high lines" a maintenance crew continuously erects stanchions. Even these supports are undermined by the treacherous erosion.

Pipeline riders today use oversize tires and deflate them to 10 pounds before attempting to negotiate the sands. When the inspection trip is concluded he re-inflates the tubes with an engine pump before driving back to the highway.

CHAMPION HORSES

HARRISBURG, Jan. 17.—(INS)—A pair of Belgian horses owned by O. E. Gallbraith, of New Bethlehem, today were the heavyweight winners of the horse pulling contest featured during the Pennsylvania Farm show.

The hefty animals, weighing a total of 3830 pounds, last night dragged a 214 ton weight 26 feet and one inch during the contest staged in the large arena of the farm show building. Five other heavyweight teams participated.

Two Percheron Belgian Cross horses entered by Kuhns brothers, also of New Bethlehem, won the lightweight championship. Registering a combined weight of 2960 pounds, they hauled a 194 ton load 27 feet and five inches.

SHOWING IMPROVEMENT

Herbert McNicholas, Jr., A-S, is showing improvement and has been transferred from the Marine hospital, Pittsburgh, to Philadelphia Naval hospital. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert McNicholas, 919 Bedford street.

Platinum was originally discovered in South America.

RESUME RAILROAD TRAFFIC IN JAPAN

TOKYO, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Allied railroad traffic in the Tokyo area was resumed today after a 24-hour halt caused by the threatened strike of half a million Japanese communications workers.

Lieut. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, U. S. Occupation Army Commander, ordered Allied rail traffic stopped last night because of the threat of a telegraph and railway tieup.

Traffic was resumed when labor leaders promised not to "interfere" with Allied trains.

Plans for the strike were still being made and a definite announcement on the starting date was expected tomorrow.

Scrap Rubber Depot Near Warren, Ohio, To Be Cleaned Up

WARREN, Jan. 17.—Cleanup of the nation's last sizable scrap rubber depot at Wardwell, south of here, will be completed in four or five months, Cleveland officials of the Reconstruction Finance corporation said.

Once used as storage space for countless thousands of tons of scrap rubber collected in war time drives, Wardwell Depot is now the scene of the tedious job of sorting what little reclaimable rubber remains. Most rubber was long ago sold to industrial users.

An estimated 35,000 tons of unusable material is being buried between layers of slag to prevent fire and offensive odors at Wardwell.

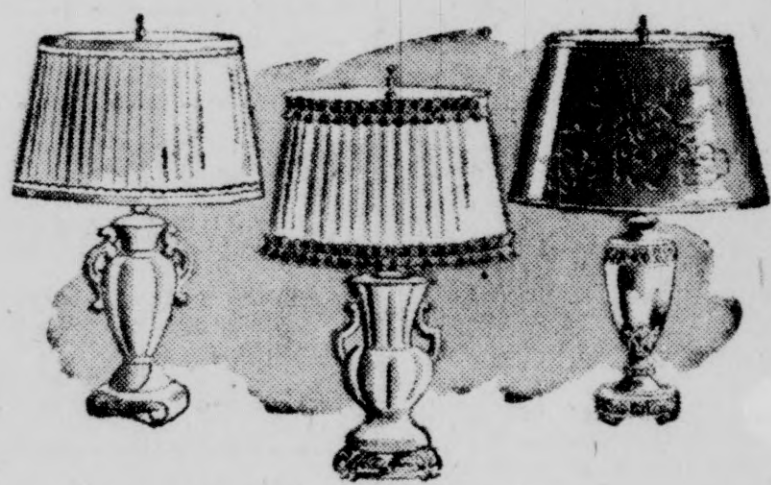

The scarlet snake resembles the deadly coral snake, but is harmless. Its red and yellow bands do not touch as do those of the coral snake. It lives mostly in the southeast U. S.

Ticket Sale For Lewis' Dinner To Close On Monday

Followers Of Mutual Broadcasting Reporter May Purchase Tickets For Broadcast

It was announced today by Carlton J. Ferris, president of New Castle Rotary club, that the public has apparently gotten the impression that only members of service clubs can purchase tickets for the dinner meeting and special broadcast of Pulton Lewis, Jr.'s daily news period over the Mutual Broadcasting system next Thursday evening, Jan. 23.

This is not the case, however, and followers of Mr. Lewis who wish to secure tickets for the dinner meeting, which also entitles the holder to a reserved seat for his lecture, "Where Do We Go from Here?", immediately following the dinner, may do so. However, these tickets must be purchased by Monday evening, Jan. 20, and can be secured at any of the following places: Lawrence Savings and Trust company, Dollar Savings association, Fleming Music store, Greater New Castle association, The News and Pennsylvania Power company.

The dinner and broadcast meeting is for the women folks too, and most of those attending will have their wives or lady friends with them.

Can See Broadcast

The appearance of Mr. Lewis is being sponsored by New Castle Rotary club, in collaboration with Station WKST, and a special invitation has been extended by them to all members of service clubs in the surrounding area, but this did not mean that the public was to be excluded. However, this impression seems to have gotten about, Mr. Ferris stated today.

"We wish to correct this and to invite any of Mr. Lewis' followers who wish to attend."

Mr. Lewis' news broadcast will be given from a specially constructed booth right in the dining room where the diners can see and hear everything that goes on and will enable many to see for the first time, just how a big news broadcast like this is handled from a radio station. It will go out on the air at 7 o'clock over 378 stations throughout the country.

Tickets for the dinner and lecture are $2.50 and for the lecture alone in the auditorium of the Cathedral the price is $1.00 for reserved seats and 75 cents for general admission.

Engineers Society Will See Film On Romance Of Steel

Monthly Dinner Meeting Will Take Place In The Castleton Monday Evening

With the new officers of the society in the chair, the Mahoning Valley Engineers society is looking forward to Monday evening's dinner meeting in The Castleton at seven o'clock.

The program of the evening will be the presentation of a fine new sound picture entitled, "Steel, Man's Servant", which has been prepared by the United States Steel corporation and presents in a complete form the story of the manufacture of steel from the iron ore to the finished product in its various types.

Reservations for the dinner must be made by Monday at 10 a. m. with Russell Magill, President Harold Yost announces.

U. S. Army Forces In Southern Korea Are Alerted Today

SEOUL, Jan. 17.—(INS)—United States army forces in southern Korea were alerted today in connection with mass demonstrations reportedly planned against the occupied nation's "trusteeship" status.

Usually reliable sources said the demonstrations were ordered by extreme rightist elements and scheduled to start tomorrow.

Some informants said, however, that the starting date for the demonstrations would be put off until early March.

The American occupation commander, Lieut. Gen. John R. Hodge, gave official credence to the reports of planned demonstrations in a special statement.

Hodge warned that "any precipitate action on the part of ill-advised groups in south Korea may alienate the good will of nations most interested in the Korean cause."

Bell Employee Is Given Honor On His Retirement

Norman Lininger Is Guest Of Dinner At Dinner Meeting Here Friday Evening

NORMAN LININGER

Norman Lininger of 602 Euclid avenue, Grove City, who retires on pension February 1 after 37 years service with the Bell Telephone company of Pennsylvania, was presented with a gold watch at a dinner given by fellow employees last night at the Eagles lodge here.

At a luncheon held in his honor yesterday at a restaurant near Grove City, he was presented with a gold service pin by Clarence E. Pay division plant superintendent of the Bell company.

A native of Greenville, Mr. Lininger started with the Bell company in construction work in January, 1910. During his long career in the telephone industry, he has been engaged in maintenance and repair work at New Castle, Grove City and Sharon.

He is a member of the Masons, the Elks and the Telephone Pioneers of America.

Mr. Lininger is married and has two daughters, Mrs. Winifred Kenmure, of Grove City, and Mrs. Virginia Wightman, of Ellwood City.

Panther Club Event January 19

Seventh Annual Dinner-Dance Is Scheduled January 19, 6:30 P. M., At Castleton

Plans have been completed for the seventh annual dinner-dance of the Panther club, scheduled for Sunday evening, January 19, at 6:30 o'clock, at The Castleton.

A full course dinner will be enjoyed by the members, their wives and guests. Officers of the Wolves club are invited as honored guests.

The principal speaker of the evening will be Attorney Frank J. Zappala, police magistrate of Pittsburgh. Toastmaster on this occasion will be D. E. Claffi, president.

Following the evening's program, dancing will be featured from 9 p. m., continuing until 1 a. m., to the pleasing tunes of a local orchestra.

Joseph Clavelli is in charge of the general arrangements, and assisting are: Anthony C. Ricciardi, Joe Punio, Daniel DeCarlo, Frank Macchia, John Fuleno and Columbo Clause.

HOBBY NECESSARY TO TAKE PRESSURE OFF MODERN LIVING

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—(INS)—"Get a hobby or die," is the advice today of Dr. Jay B. Nash.

The director of the department of physical education, New York university, told presidents of 45 Baptist schools and colleges:

"We have to learn to live amid confusion, amid the rush, the worry and the tenseness of modern life. . . . We've got to learn to play golf, or to play bridge, or to go down into the cellar and work on a lathe, or to go out and play a game of tennis."

"I say, we've got to get a hobby or die."

Naples, Italy, has been called the most densely populated city of Europe.

Nearly 180 million gallons of wine was stored in Spain at one time recently.

Pennsylvania Manual Is Off Press

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, Jan. 17.—(INS)—The 87th edition of the Pennsylvania Manual containing detailed information about the activities of the commonwealth and background of state officials has come off the presses and is ready for distribution. The manual is the 1945 edition which had been delayed because of printing difficulties. The 1156 page, attractively bound book is a direct offshoot of Thomas Jefferson's Manual of Parliamentary Practice published in 1801. It was adopted officially by the General Assembly in 1846 as rules for the government of both branches of the legislature. It was known as Smull's legislative handbook until 1922 when the copyright was purchased by the commonwealth. Election statistics, finances, history of the commonwealth and the names of past and present cabinet members and legislators are but a few of the topics in the manual.

When newsmen checked Governor-elect James H. Duff concerning the names of possible cabinet appointees, he would say no comment and add: "I cannot state anyone from guessing." He pointed out if enough "guesses" were made, someone would come up with the name of an appointee.

Gov. John C. Bell, Jr., has demonstrated to state employees that he is a "real fellow." Even though he has been elevated to the chief executive post for a 20-day interim term, Bell has not stopped eating his lunch in the state cafeteria. The 54-year-old official takes his place in line each day about 1 o'clock, pushes a tray over the rails and carries it to a table where he joins other state officials. He ignores a small private dining hall at the rear of the restaurant and eats in the main dining room. A friendly, likeable man, Bell stops in capitol corridors and chats with friends and newsmen.

Capitol Hill leaders were not surprised by the announcement from Washington that none of the 26 members of the Pennsylvania Republican congressional delegation had been rewarded with committee chairmanships. Chieftains were pleased, however, with the appointment of Cong. Richard Simpson, of Huntingdon, as a member of the powerful ways and means committee. Simpson is dean of the Pennsylvania GOP bloc. The appointment of Sen. Edward Martin to the upper chamber's finance committee was roundly applauded by Republican leaders. The committee is considered one of the most important in the Senate.

In his final message to the General Assembly, former Gov. Edward Martin noted that he made 322 non-political speeches during his four-year tenure including 18 in other states. "I have visited plants, mines, schools, farms and churches in every county of the commonwealth," Martin said. "I have tried to know our people, understand their views, be guided by their wishes and work with them for a better state." He did not include the many score addresses he made in his successful campaign for the U. S. Senate.

Dairymen Urge Duff To Act On Margarine Issue

HARRISBURG, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Gov.-Elect James H. Duff was urged today by the Pennsylvania Dairymen's Association to seek an early decision from the supreme court on oleomargarine license fees contested by merchants.

A Dauphin county court decision declared the $500 annual wholesale and $100 retail rates unreasonable. An appeal has been filed by the Commonweath.

Dairymen demanded a stronger bang disease control program and sought accrediting of herds under 18 months of age that have been "properly vaccinated".

They endorsed the federal school lunch program and recommended full state support of the project.

Proposals of the State Horticultural Association to advance the January dates of the farm show were seconded.

Wilbur Barkdoll, of Mont Alto, was elected president.

Other new officers were: Vice-President Lee Poorbaugh, of York; Secretary-Treasurer Charles E. Cowan, of Lancaster; and Assistant Secretary-Treasurer Merrill Zimmerman, of Norristown. R. D. Directors included K. S. Bagnshaw, of Hollidaysburg; and Joseph O. Canby, of Langhorne.

Italian Premier Back In Europe

PARIS, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Italian Premier Alcide De Gasperi returned to Europe today with the optimistic prediction that Italy will receive additional financial aid from the United States.

He revealed that Senators Vandenberg and Taft, Governor Dewey and "several leading Democrats" had given him "assurances" they will support a bill in congress providing for a loan to Italy.

The Italian premier arrived last night in Paris after an uneventful flight from Bermuda. He is on his way back to Rome after a diplomatic visit to the United States.

Aboard the plane with him were ten American newspapermen beginning a tour of the occupied zones as guests of the U. S. army.

Beaver Falls Orders New Parking Meters

BEAVER FALLS, Jan. 17.—City officials have placed an order with the C. K. Koontz Equipment company, of Pittsburgh, for 550 new parking meters of the Miller multiple type which permits up to two hours parking. Engineers are expected to arrive in the city next Monday to survey the area to be covered by the meters.

The meters are similar to the ones recently installed in Aliquippa, New Castle and other nearby cities.

Highway Safety Mental Health Bureaus Favored

Gov.-Elect Duff Would Create New Departments To Handle
These Functions

HARRISBURG, Jan. 17.—(INS).—Gov.-Elect James H. Duff today favored establishment of new departments to handle mental health and highway safety.

He indicated he would present the recommendations to the general assembly.

The highway safety department would assume the function of the highway safety and motor vehicle bureaus in the revenue department while the mental health agency would be built from part of the welfare department, he said.

"I'm giving serious consideration to recommending the legislature create a separate department of mental health," Duff said. "I'm also considering suggesting a department of safety and motor vehicles."

Seventeen hundred traffic deaths in Pennsylvania last year pointed out the "great importance of safety on highways," Duff asserted.

Transfer of the 10 state medical and surgical hospitals from the welfare to health department "might be pertinent," Duff said. He refused comment on the Public Charities association's proposal that a department of corrections be formed in reorganizing the welfare department.

"I wouldn't be interested in that," he said. "Multiplying departments is something to be careful of."

Criticizes Use Of German Scientists In United States

Federation Of Atomic Scientists
Official Bitterly Assails Program Of Army

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—(INS).—W. A. Higginbotham, federation of atomic scientists official, today bitterly criticized the army's program for utilizing German scientists in the United States.

Higginbotham said that a large number of other scientists have joined him in opposing the prolonged presence in this country of the foreign technicians.

Higginbotham said in an interview: "Scientists all over are clearly opposed to placing the Germans among universities and in private industry."

"The main objection is that the last groups brought to this country are not top scientists in the first place and all of the scientists held prominent positions in Nazi war work."

He asserted that the army's effort to screen thoroughly the foreign scientists "can not in view of such background be considered significant."

Higginbotham said that the majority of federation scientists feel that the army merely should "pump the Germans for special information."

He declared that "it is ridiculous to offer them citizenship" and that universities are far from eager to accept the Germans.

The army said previously that the program has developed to a point where many of the German scientists can be released shortly to private industry, research laboratories and educational institutions.

DIMES BOXES ROBBED

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 17.—(INS).—Late Wheeling police today were seeking the person who robbed several "March of Dimes" boxes placed in offices of the city-county building.

Police said thieves opened the metal cans of approximately $5 which was donated for the benefit of infantile paralysis victims.

John Flaherty, 60, was arrested in connection with the theft and is being held as a suspect.

Russia's Sharing Of Spitsbergens Must Be Approved

U. S., Britain, Other Signatories
Of 1920 Pact Must Okay
Soviet Move

OSLO, Jan. 17.—(INS).—The Norwegian government gave assurance today that Russia's proposal for sharing defense of Spitsbergen must receive the approval of the United States and Britain as well as other signatories to the 1920 pact.

The Norwegian government announced that France, Sweden, Denmark and Holland, the other signers of the treaty which gave Norway sovereignty, must also be consulted concerning militarizing the strategic Arctic archipelago.

The Norwegian government statement issued by the foreign office declared Norway wished to reach a solution which would contribute to a further strengthening of good relations between the Nordregians and Soviet Russia.

The Norwegians admitted they are considering the Russian request for joint responsibility in the defense of the northern island chain and a revision of the 1920 treaty which specified no military bases could be created in Spitsbergen.

The Norwegian foreign office declared that, notwithstanding the Soviet adherence to the Spitsbergen treaty, it was obvious in the interests of realistic policy that the Russians were closely connected with the defense of the archipelago.

Tea is an evergreen plant, and grows best in tropical or subtropical climates or in a continuously hot, wet climate with high humidity. A cool climate such as is found in the higher altitudes of Ceylon and Darjeeling, British India, slows growth and, as a result, improves the tea's quality.

Congressman Cites Undersecretaries Of State In Accusations

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Undersecretaries of State Will Clayton and Dean Acheson were accused in the house Thursday of using their official positions "indirectly to increase their family fortunes."

Rep. Shafer (R) Mich., charged that Clayton has backed foreign loans while his huge cotton sales house of Anderson, Clayton & Co. made peak profits through foreign sales.

He charged that Acheson is a member of a law firm which stands to earn a one million dollar commission for helping Poland obtain a 500 million dollar loan from the United States.

Shafer informed the house that he had intended to introduce a resolution that to investigate the two officials, and he called for their resignations.

He said, however, that "in view of the elevation of General Marshall to the post of secretary of state, I am withholding that resolution to see if he will not clean house of these men who are using public posts for private posts."

Acheson declined to comment on Shafer's charges.

A state department spokesman said that Clayton was unavailable but that Shafer's allegations have "cropped up every two or three months," and that Clayton had on those occasions said that he had severed all connections with Anderson, Clayton & Co.

Clayton also asserted previously that he does not participate in any discussions involving cotton within the department, leaving all such deliberations to Assistant Secretary of State Willard Throp.

Active Propagandist
Shafer declared, "as we all know, Mr. Clayton is an active propagandist for more loans to other nations—to China, to France, to the Netherlands and to Italy. His reasons are that these nations need more American dollars to buy more materials—including cotton."

The Michigan congressman told the house that although Clayton had resigned from his firm upon accepting a government post, his family owns 40 per cent of the stock.

He quoted from the company's annual report to show that it earned net profits after taxes during 1946 of more than 14 million dollars.

"Of that amount," Shafer told the house, "more than $5,500,000 went to Undersecretary of State Will Clayton and his wife and children."

He quoted from the same report—"Export sales were facilitated by the government's export subsidy of four cents per pound and by export-import bank credits to foreign counties for the importation of U. S. cotton."

Hurt U. S. Cotton Farmer
Shafer contended, however, that the Clayton company "hurt" the American cotton farmer by "helping promote the growth of cotton in Brazil."

Shafer asserted that Acheson also supported the American foreign loan program and that "beneath his voice of idealism you can detect the rap of the money changer." He said Acheson was a member of the Washington law firm of Covington, Burling & Rublee "one of the wealthiest and largest in the nation."

The congressman quoted a magazine to support his statement that this law firm is actively trying to extract 500 million dollars from the American government... the fee, if the loan goes through, is supposed to be one million dollars."

Alluding to recent charges against members of the house and senate that they used their government's positions to enhance their personal wealth, Shafer asserted:

"I submit to the members of this congress that Mr. Clayton's presence in his high state department post is as much a reflection on the executive branch of this government as the presence of any senator or representative accused of accepting favors from war contractors is a blot on the senate or the house."

In discussing Acheson, Shafer said: "Acheson himself has done well enough through his partnership in the (law) firm to maintain two very nice homes, but whether he calls them 'dream house No. 1' or 'dream house No. 88' I cannot say."

Slovak Farmers Club Election Of Officers

Rushing Bill To Use Liquor Profit In Relief Program

HARRISBURG, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Legislation appropriating $23,400,000 of state liquor stores' profits to assure continuance of relief payments after January 28 was being prepared today for swift passage by the general assembly.

House Majority Leader Herbert P. Sorg, of Elk, who will sponsor the deficiency appropriation measure Monday night, explained that GOP leaders hoped to obtain final passage of the measure in the house on Wednesday and formal senate approval by January 27, the day before relief coffers were expected to be drained.

State Treasurer Ramsey S. Black may not sign the February public assistance checks until the money is placed in the treasury.

The assembly will reconvene Monday after a ten days recess. The measure reorganizing the legislative personnel system was slated to be approved finally by the senate Monday afternoon.

It was expected that one of Duff's first official acts after his inauguration Tuesday would be to affix his signature to the measure which eliminates "obsolete jobs," establishes a year-round skeleton force and boosts salaries under a $39,000 appropriation.

Americans consume 50,000,000 quarts of fresh milk and cream a day.

Plaingrove Grange Will Present Play

Plaingrove grange has joined the Lawrence County Pomona Little Theater project. "Miss Ginger," a three-act comedy, will be presented by the local grange. Weekly rehearsals are being conducted by James Cornelius, principal of the high school. The first presentation of the play will be at Plaingrove grange hall Friday evening, January 24.

Those taking part in the play are: Arthur Kohnfelder, Harriet Warner, Edwin Gardner, Roberta Cory, Robert Burns, Evelyn Cunningham, David Shaw, Mary Cunningham, Marjorie Foster, Donna Neely, Nancy Scott and Woods Scott.

YW Fund Drive Gets $901.21 In First Few Days

Reconstruction Fund Workers Expect To Reach Local Goal Of $1,800 Soon

At the first report meeting of the Y. W. C. A. reconstruction fund campaign in the "Y" on Thursday afternoon, the fund totaled $902.21 out of a goal of $1,800. Chairman Mrs. Roy Long announced this morning.

Both Mrs. Long and Mrs. James Moorehead, co-chairman, were pleased with the generous donations which have brought the fund so far along in just one week.

Service Clubs Generous
Mrs. Long called special attention to the service clubs which have made their contributions to the Y. W. C. A.'s fund for those who have suffered during and since the war, and have held up under the strain until the women of America could come to their assistance with leadership training and Y. W. C. A. shelter.

Among these clubs were: Junior Federation, $50; Winodausis, $25; National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, $15; and the Mahoning Y-Teens, $7.21.

Fund workers voted to have their next meeting on January 30, at 7:30 in the evening.

Report By Groups
The report by churches and Y. W. C. A. groups is as follows:

First Methodist, Mrs. Martin Horning, chairman, $254; First Presbyterian, Mrs. William J. Caldwell, $140; Blue Triangle club, Mrs. Betty Haines, $66; Second United Presbyterian, Mrs. Ed Alexander, $53; Highland United Presbyterian, Mrs. E. L. Thompson, $53; Elm street branch, Mrs. Raymond Williams, $52; St. George Greek Orthodox, Mrs. George Karis, $48; Central Presbyterian, Mrs. Blanche Bright, $47; Trinity Episcopal, Mrs. Ed. Davenport, $22; New Wilmington T.P., Miss Jane Mercer Kerr, $20; First Christian, Mrs. Charles H. Young, $20; Y-Teen club, Mrs. Glenn Troop, $21; Christian Missionary Alliance, Miss Muri Smith, $6; and five dollars each from the St. Paul's Lutheran, Mrs. J. F. Rente; the St. Paul's Lutheran, Mrs. Charles Bricker; and the First Baptist, Mrs. David Nesbit.

Under the most favorable conditions, thunder can be heard at a distance of ten miles although it is occasionally heard a distance of 20 or even 30 miles.

WESTFIELD GRANGE PLANS FOR PROGRAM

Westfield grange will meet in the hall on Monday, January 20, at 8:30 o'clock. An interesting program has been prepared by the lecturer, Mrs. Thelma Damico, consisting of the following: Instrumental solo, Mrs. Grace McBride; one-act play, "At the Broadcasting Station", Rev. John M. Fife, announcer; solo, Parnes Fullerton; story teller, Mrs. Theresa Fullerton and instrumental solo, Mrs. McBride.

The first of a series of plays in the Lawrence County Pomona Little Theater association will be presented Wednesday, January 22, when Westfield will present "Aunt Samantha Rules the Roost".

Plan To Convey Food To Pittsburgh Taverns, Eateries

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Police Superintendent Harvey Scott today said that Pittsburgh taverns and restaurants will receive food deliveries under police protection.

The superintendent's action came as a result of the AFL Teamsters Union embargo on deliveries of milk, bread and other essential food in the 102-day-old jurisdictional brewery war for control of employees in Pittsburgh's three major breweries.

At present the brewery workers are members of the CIO-United Brewery Workers Union.

Scott said that every effort will be made to prevent violence, adding that food will be delivered, embargo or no embargo.

The delivery boycott began yesterday when the teamsters threw picket lines around at least 100 tavern-restaurants in Pittsburgh.

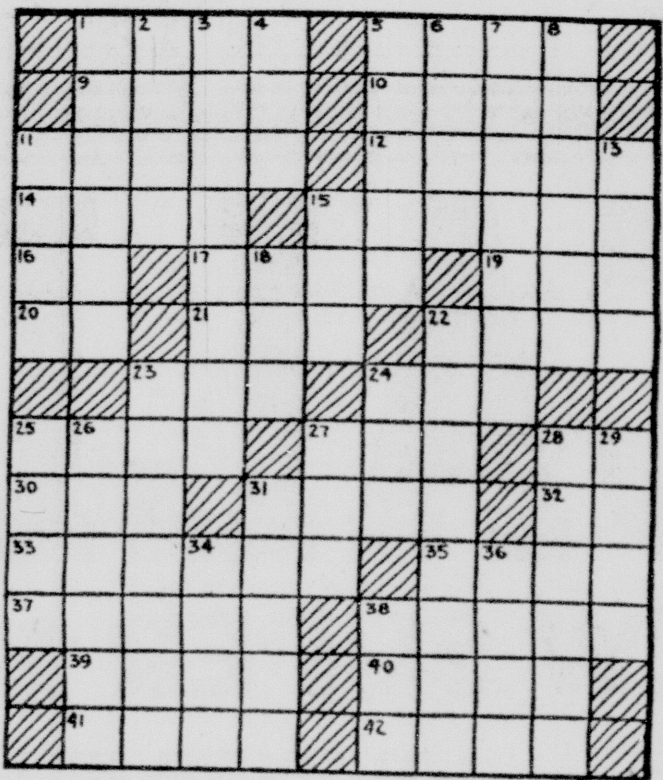

NEW GLIDER PLANE
STOCKHOLM.—(INS)—A new glider plane of Swedish design has been put on the market and successfully demonstrated to Swedish and foreign aviation experts.

The landing ski of the glider is equipped with two small wheels and two hooks. By means of the latter it is possible to use the modern type of launch-start, with the wire fixed under the body of the plane. This increases the clearing height by almost 50 per cent.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Yeager of Stockton, Cal., don't worry about sneak thieves ransacking their auto. They leave a pet 200-pound African lion in the back seat when they park their car.

To End Rationing Of Many Liquors

HARRISBURG, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Rationing of all whiskeys except scotch, bourbon and bottled in bond products today was expected to be ended by February.

Unrestricted sales were slated to be accompanied by price hikes up to 60 cents a bottle on blends and five cents on wines.

Revenue increases resulting from the rate boosts may approximate $20,000,000 a year, according to a board spokesman.

The 1946 ledger of the world's largest liquor monopoly showed an income of about $28,000,000 from sales while revenue from the emergency 10 per cent liquor tax amounted to approximately $20,000,000.

Liquor revenues during the 1947-49 biennium were expected to be earmarked to meet budget deficiencies.

PENNY BANKER
PASCO, Wash.—(INS)—Every Saturday a woman comes into the city treasurer's office and buys about 12,000 pennies collected during the week from the town's parking meters.

But Mrs. O. D. Chapman sells the pennies for more than the $120 she pays for them. She is one of the foremost experts in numismatology and in each batch finds about 200 coins worth anywhere from 4 cents to $15.

Most of the mystery plays of the Middle Ages were enacted with masks.

Date Of Delivery Of New Buses For City Not Definite

Officials of the Shenango Valley Transportation Company do not know the date when new buses for New Castle will arrive, it is stated. Eleven were ordered for Sharon and New Castle a year and a half ago. Three buses, now at Sharon, were supposed to have been delivered by General Motors Corporation, October 15. Strikes and shortages delayed delivery, according to officials of the company.

Council Opposes Razing Building

Expresses Opposition To Using Apartment House Site For Gas Station

Members of city council at their session in the municipal building on Thursday, by motion presented by Property Director Joe D. Alexander, expressed opposition to the plan in which an apartment building at Highland-Wallace avenues would give way for a gasoline service station.

The motion was submitted after Mayor John F. Haven called council's attention to the housing shortage, and explained that if the building gave way for a service station it would de-house 14 families. He expressed opposition, saying houses are needed more than service stations then inquired as to colleagues' views.

It was explained that a permit for the change had been granted in view of a report made to Neil Williams, city bureau of building, that a majority of persons in number and interest, within 200 feet of the building, had agreed to the construction of a service station.

An appeal was filed by a nearby resident with the board of appeals, zoning commission. The hearing is scheduled for Tuesday afternoon in city hall.

Safety Director D. O. Davies stated "this is no time to reduce housing accommodations."

Property Director Joe D. Alexander said "an appeal has been made to the zoning commission and the matter, legally, is a question of law, and no doubt Mr. Williams believed he was right in granting a permit for a service station."

He inquired of Solicitor Robert White as to whether or not a councilmanic expression would affect the case Tuesday. When the solicitor replied negatively, Councilman Alexander submitted a motion expressing council's opposition to decreasing housing facilities. It passed unanimously.

Finance Director Albert Hoyland asserted "I am opposed to tearing down the building and throwing people out of homes. It is unwise."

Reserve Officers Offered AGF Jobs

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 17.—(INS)—All agencies of the Army ground forces now are open to officers in the organized reserve corps for active duty training with pay.

Col. Leo A. Bessette, district executive of the Western Pennsylvania Military district, said the training would include 15-day refresher courses at all Army ground forces and technical and administrative service schools.

Reserve officers will receive pay and allowances appropriate to their grade, including travel pay while on active duty.

The training also includes not less than 60 nor more than 90 days duty with higher headquarters for specially qualified officers.

Fullerton Wins Prize For Pigs

In addition to the many prizes won in the sheep and wool divisions, C. M. Fullerton of R. D. 2, Enon Valley, also took several prizes for his swine entries.

Fullerton had the Reserve Grand champion in the Berkshire division, and took 12th place with junior sow pig.

In the 4-H club clothing division, Eleanor Donley, of Lawrence county, took first honors in the two accessories class.

WILL REPATRIATE GERMANS FROM JAPAN

TOKYO, Jan. 17.—(INS)—General MacArthur's headquarters announced today that it will soon begin the repatriation of 1200 German Nationals from Japan.

Among the first repatriates will be 12 Germans long confined in Sugamo prison for security reasons. The headquarters announcement, however, said that plans for the repatriation of 150 "former enemy diplomats" have not yet been made.

Thus it appeared that Heinrich Stahmer, former German ambassador to Japan, will remain in his cell at Sugamo prison.

There are 2,600 German Nationals still in Japan.

ORDER AUSTRALIAN GIRL FROM MANILA

MANILA, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Dorothy Muschall, former Australian telephone operator, was ordered from the Philippines today as an "undesirable alien."

The pretty 20-year-old redhead arrived in Manila last February aboard a plane flown from Sydney by a United States Army officer.

Immigration authorities said she arrived in the Philippine capital with $1,000, but now is without funds after having spent an "adventurous" year among United States servicemen.

STATE HONORS

FRANKLIN MEMORY

HARRISBURG, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Pennsylvanians today celebrated Benjamin Franklin day in honor of the 241st birthday of the famous statesman.

Gov. John C. Bell, Jr., called upon schools and civic groups to hold ceremonies in Franklin's memory. "One of the greatest of all Americans, it is particularly appropriate that his memory should be revered by the citizens of Pennsylvania," Governor Bell said in a proclamation.

Jackie Robinson Confident Rickey Will Keep Faith

Former Negro UCLA Grid
Star Played Great Ball
For Montreal In 1946

By OMER ANDERSON
(International News Service Staff Writer)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Jackie Robinson, only negro ever to play organized baseball under his true racial identity, declared today he is confident Branch Rickey means to give him every chance to play for the Brooklyn club.

Rickey signed the statuesque negro star to a contract with Brooklyn's Montreal farm club in 1945 while Robinson was playing with the Kansas City Monarchs, a negro club.

Great Hitter
Last season the former UCLA grid great belted International league pitching for a .349 average.

Said Robinson:
"When Mr. Rickey signed me, he told me I would get the same chance as any white player to make the grade with Brooklyn. I'm sure he'll keep his word."

Robinson added, however, that "if my signing was a stunt and I don't get a fair break, then I'm sure the sports writers won't let him forget it."

Has No Word Yet
The fleet second baseman said as yet he has received no word from either Montreal or Brooklyn concerning next season.

In the meantime, he seems unconcerned about his future in organized baseball.

Robinson takes a fair minded view of his chances to break into the Dodger lineup. Frankly, he thinks Ed Stanky would be a very hard man to displace at second, and Pee Wee Reese he regards as a fixture at shortstop.

May Try Third
Jackie thinks his best bet would be third base, a position he never has tried.

The negro is full of praise for Montreal Manager Clay Hopper and Clyde Sukeforth, the veteran catcher and Brooklyn scout who helped the Royals in spring training. He says Sukeforth was at his side with encouragement whenever the going was rough.

Robinson liked his teammates and the other players in the International league, many of them southerners. And he rhapsodizes over the Montreal fans. But for that matter he says fans all over the circuit were more than fair toward him.

Would Teach Sports

Aside from playing in the majors, Jackie's reigning ambition is to see a teen-age, interracial sports center built near his Los Angeles home, where juvenile delinquency is acute. A site has been purchased and $70,000 is being raised for a building.

With the center built, Robinson would like to teach sports there in the off season and when he quits baseball.

Robinson still can't shake his amazement at his baseball success. For, although he was a UCLA football and basketball sensation, he played baseball only one year—and batted .063!

Allegheny Drops Earlham College

On '47 Grid Card

MEADVILLE, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Allegheny college's lone football victim since 1941 was missing today from the 1947 Gator gridiron schedule.

Earlham, of Richmond, Ind., the team which provided the only Allegheny victories in 1942 and 1946 seasons, is absent from the card because of a conflict in dates. They will be back in 1948.

The Indiana college is replaced by Susquehanna university. The other seven games, four of them to be played at home, are: Oct. 4, Oberlin; Oct. 11, Dickinson; at Carlisle; Oct. 18, Westminster, at New Wilmington; Oct. 25, Grove City; Nov. 1, Thiel; Nov. 8, Mt. Union, at Alliance, O.; and Nov. 15, Susquehanna.

Kluttz Signs With Pirates

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Clyde Kluttz, catcher recently obtained from the St. Louis Cardinals by the Pittsburgh Pirates, today had signed his 1947 contract. The Pirate management announced. Kluttz, in returning the contract from his home at Salisbury, N. C., informed General Manager H. Roy Hamey of the Bucs he was going to Cocoa Grove, Fla., as an instructor in the Jack Rossiter baseball school next month prior to arrival of the Pirates for spring training.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—(INS)—An elimination contest designed to unscramble the rankings of non-descript challengers for Sugar Ray Robinson's welterweight crown will be staged at Madison Square Garden tonight when Billy Graham of New York meets Ruby Kessler of Brooklyn.

The bout is scheduled for ten rounds. Graham, who has lost only two decisions in 69 contests, is a slight favorite.

Titan Swimmers Meeting Teachers

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 17.—The Westminster college swimmers opened their nine meet schedule this afternoon against Slippery Rock Teachers at Slippery Rock. Coach Harold Burry picked a tough one for the Titans first tank team since 1942 as the Rockets are loaded with outstanding talent. In their opening match, the Rockets easily defeated Carnegie Tech 46-29. Ted Holt, junior from Pittsburgh, and Jerry Simon, Erie sophomore, are expected to provide the big hope for the Westminster swimmers. Both Holt and Simon are dash men. Those making the trip include: Holt, Simon, Paul Brown, Duif Brown, Bob Hall, Roger Seaholm, Tom Swan, Dick Buris, Bill Moore, and Bill Wallace.

Tilden Is Given Nine Months Term By Coast Jurist

Judge Lectures Former Tennis
Champion Charged With Delinquency Of Minor

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—(INS)—William Tatum (Big Bill) Tilden, former world champion tennis player and still a power in professional court circles, was sentenced Thursday to nine months in the county jail.

The sentence was passed after Tilden pleaded guilty to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor boy.

Ashen white, and on the verge of collapse upon hearing the sentence, Tilden, then asked for straight probation and also a stay of execution.

Denying both pleas, Superior Judge A. A. Scott passed the nine month sentence after which time the net star will be on probation for five years, and furthermore "must never be in the company of either male or female juveniles unaccompanied by their parents," the judge added.

The judge also ordered Tilden to see a psychiatrist after his release.

Is Great Shock
In passing sentence, Judge Scott said "It comes as a great shock to all—particularly sport fans—that you should admit to such practices."

"You have been an idol to thousands of youngsters and admired by millions of adults throughout the world because of your prowess as a world's champion athlete and tennis player."

"Your admitted practice is a thing we do not expect from great athletes. Also let this be an object lesson to parents so that they might more closely supervise their growing children."

Pitt And Geneva Battle Saturday

Pitt, After Dropping To Army And Westminster, Seeks To Start
Winning Streak

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 17.—(INS)—The Pitt Panthers basketball squad will make another stab at getting back into the win column Saturday night when they journey to Geneva Falls to meet the Geneva Covenanters for the 30th time in their series.

After two western trips on which they lost four games to Big Nine opponents, the Panthers bounced back to whip Penn State and Carnegie Tech at home, but promptly broke their winning streak by losing to Army and Westminster.

Sammy David, sophomore forward, was expected to spearhead the Pitt attack in the place of Dodo Cantner who suffered a shoulder injury in the Westminster game.

Penn Crew Members Start Working Out

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Heave-ho was the byword in the Franklin field rowing room today as Russell "Rusty" Callow launched his 18th season as Penn's rowing coach with nearly 150 crew candidates reporting for indoor practice.

Callow and Dick Jordan, 150-pound coach, plan to hold daily workouts until the end of February, when it is hoped conditions on the Schuylkill river will permit outdoor practice.

The seasons' opener, a dual regatta with Princeton, is scheduled for April 19. If there is sufficient water in the river by then.

Callow said all deposits on the rowing route at present would prevent regattas over the full Henley course.

Mangrum Leads In Richmond Tourney

RICHMOND, Cal., Jan. 17.—(INS)—A field of 109 golfers renewed their par-shattering assault today in the second round of the $10,000 Richmond open on the eastern shore of San Francisco Bay.

Records fell like clay pigeons in yesterday's first round with national open champion Lloyd Mangrum, the leader of the sub-par scorers.

Mangrum had a 34-30-64 score to equal the competitive Richmond course record. Forty-seven other golfers bested par 71 figures.

Graham Favored To Beat Kessler

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—(INS)—An elimination contest designed to unscramble the rankings of non-descript challengers for Sugar Ray Robinson's welterweight crown will be staged at Madison Square Garden tonight when Billy Graham of New York meets Ruby Kessler of Brooklyn.

The bout is scheduled for ten rounds. Graham, who has lost only two decisions in 69 contests, is a slight favorite.

Jenkins Wins, Miller Loses

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Willie Jenkins of Homestead, Pa., today again had proved his claim to superiority over welterweights around Pittsburgh after knocking out Milton Besso of Indianapolis in three rounds. In another bout, Jackie Eisenberger, 133, Pittsburgh, knocked out Irish Ray Miller, 137, Ellwood City, Pa., in the third round.

Draft Call For February Still Not Decided

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Maj. Gen. St. Clair Streett, the army's new recruiting chief, disclosed today that the number of volunteers has picked up thirty per cent since the first of this year.

Streett said that previously enlistments had been running from between four to five thousand a week. The increase is expected to bring total enlistments for this month to 25,000.

Between thirty-five and forty thousand enlistments are needed monthly, however, to place the army on an all-volunteer basis. Set strength for July 1 is one million, seventy thousand officers and men.

It is still undecided whether the army will have to seek extension of selective service past its March 31 expiration date to meet the goal, matters on which Streett refused to comment.

Irish Mickie Beats Padalino

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Jan. 17.—(INS)—Irish Mickie Doyle of Cleveland and Charlie Padalino of Detroit fought ten vicious rounds here last night with Doyle winning the decision. It was a slugfests match throughout.

HOUSE LEAGUE GAMES

New Castle Ramblers defeated the Keystones last night in the House league at the "Y" 41 to 31 with Joe Zeigler the star for the winners and Cialella the star for the losers. In the other game the South Side Lions defeated the Milton A. C. 61 to 38 with Moses, Deep, Jim Fair and Jacobs in starring roles.

SEEK TRACE OF MAN
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 17.—(INS)—Pittsburgh police today were trying to trace movements of Eugene McHugh, 52, since his disappearance from his home January 6.

McHugh, a steelworker and father of eight children, left home in his car that day to cash in a gift certificate for a new hat. He never arrived at the hat store, and hasn't been seen since.

Police said a daughter was reported near death in Homestead hospital.

Paraguay will control the production and sale of articles of necessity.
